The Woburn Journal

BY THE SEA.

Hay on the rocks and watched the sea.

As it sparkling danced 'neath a sunny sky.

The warm sweet wind just touched my cheek.

And I sighed that romance had passed me by.

I gazed at the sea and sky and shore.

Till a sudden sight made my pulses bound.

For a little way from my rocky nook.

Was an open parasol, low on the ground.

'Twas large and white and of India silk.

Its top tilted down was my vis-a-vis.

But I guessed its lining—such shaded rose.

As paints the murmuring shells of the sea.

Beneath on the earth spread a soft rug.

The fringe of a lawn I

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, OCT. 12, 1894.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY.

The Republicans of Woburn and vicinity will hold their first rally of the campaign in Lyceum Hall this evening, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock.

Hon. W. S. Knox, candidate for Congress from this District, Hon. George A. Marden of Lowell, and Curtis Guild, Junr., Esq., will be the principal orators.

Those who would secure seats, must go early for there will be a big crowd.

DR. HOLMES GONE.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, the Physician, Poet, and "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," died quite suddenly at his home on Beacon street, Boston, just after noon on Sunday last. He was born in Cambridge in a house now 150 years old, near the Washington Elm, on Aug. 29, 1809. He led a literary rather than a professional life, and the productions of his pen have been read and admired in every quarter of the globe.

Dr. Holmes was greatly beloved by all who knew him.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB OF MASSACHUSETTS.

The Fourth Annual Dinner of the Republican Club of Massachusetts will be held at Music Hall, Boston, on Wednesday evening, October 24, 1894. Distinguished speakers whose names will be announced later, will be present and address the meeting. Every effort is being made by the committee to make this dinner as successful as those heretofore held by the Club.

TOO LATE.

At a meeting of the Woburn Board of Sewer Commissioners held last Monday it was voted not to begin work on the sewers this fall. For this delay the Board are in no way responsible. Last January they asked the City Council for $130,000 and 3 months after, on Oct. 5, they were officially notified that $30,000 had been appropriated for the work.

REPRESENTATIVE CONVENTION.

The Republican 14th Representative District convention composed of the city of Woburn and town of Reading will be held in Concert Hall, Woburn, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Oct. 16, 1894, for the purpose of nominating two candidates for Representatives to the General Court.

MILITARY.

The Mobilization of the Massachusetts troops in Boston last Tuesday was a grand affair. They numbered about 6000, and their marching and maneuvers were a great treat to thousands of admirers.

Company G, 5th Regiment, proudly held their own in drill and soldierly deportment.

STATE CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Massachusetts held their convention for the nomination of State officers at Music Hall in Boston last Saturday at which the present officials were nominated with out opposition.

The convention was full and enthusiastic.

RUSSELL AGAIN.

Hon. John E. Russell, the Gentle Shepherd of the Berkshire Hills, was nominated for Governor at the Democratic State convention last Monday. He fought against it but was forced to yield at last.

Last Sunday's Boston Journal was a corker. It was the first birthday anniversary celebration issue of the Sunday edition of that sterling Republican paper and a great credit to those who made it. The Journal got out of its old ruts a couple or three years ago, since when it has made wonderful progress on every line.

The 42d annual meeting of the Middlesex County Teachers Association will be held on Tuesday, No. 6, in the Grammar School of the Cambridge High School Building on Broadway, Cambridge, for which a good programme has been prepared.

Last week Hon. John Cummings and Hon. E. D. Hayden, both of this city, were re-elected Directors of the Boston & Albany Railroad. Mr. Hayden is Vice-President and business Director of the Company.

Hon. John M. Harlow was one of the Vice Presidents at large of the Republican State convention last Saturday, and Hon. Edward E. Thompson was chosen a member of the Ballot Committee.

One of the brightest papers that comes to our desk is Boston Ideas. It gets along regularly every Monday morning and is a welcome visitor.

The publication of the Wakefield Evening News has been discontinued. It did not pay. "I told you so."

"Things is workin'" for an entire new deal at the next Woburn city election.

The wildest and heaviest rain-storm of the season prevailed all day Wednesday.

General Robert E. Lee, Commander of the Confederate Army, died 24 years ago today.

—Charles and William Greenleaf went up to the White Mts. last week and had a good time.

—Mr. Curtis Greenwood offers a nice house to rent and a large new parlor stove for sale.

—Aubrey Bonelli, son of Mr. C. A. Bonelli of Franklin st., is salesman for Brown & Durrell of Boston.

—Miss Martena Bancroft has made a slight change in her professional card. She has lots of scholars this fall.

—The fire last Saturday evening was on Buckman st. The kitchen was of a dwelling was badly scorched.

—Particulars concerning the renting of a desirable tenement on Pleasant st. can be learned by calling at this office.

—A change in time of running cars on the Lynn & Boston (Ea. Mdx.) S. R. R. went into effect on Oct. 1. See timetable.

—Miss S. Bancroft advertises to make wigs and do ladies hair work at No. 11 Montvale ave. She comes well recommended.

—Copeland & Bowser "talk right out in meeting" this week. Mr. Copeland says the firm are going to sell goods this fall "or bust."

—Mr. George S. Cutler of the Highlands left yesterday for the Maine forests where he will spend several days shooting deer, moose, etc.

—How many of our readers have observed the unusual brilliancy of the Hunter's Moon now nightly shedding her beams over this part of the earth?

—Miss Irmay Tay is a success as a piano teacher. She is thoroughly educated in the profession and has a aptitude for teaching. Miss Tay has good classes this fall.

—The next rehearsal by the Musical Society, F. H. Lewis, Director, will be held this evening in the vestry of the Congregational church instead of Concert Hall.

—It would puzzle any fruit store in Middlesex county to show a larger variety of better fruit than Cuneo & Crowe keep for sale. Everything fresh and toothsome.

—Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Williams of Boston are on a pleasure trip up the Hudson, among the Catskills, and in regions thereabouts. Real estate business must be good in Boston.

—Last Saturday evening our good friend Mr. Edmund C. Cottle generously paved the way to a "square meal" at the Editor's home on Sunday, for which all hands were grateful.

—The Ladies Club will hold an afternoon Tea and Sale in Music Hall, next Friday, Oct. 19. It will be something worth attending. And then one ought to hold the good ladies along.

—Those who were present at the Business Men's Y. M. C. A. supper the other night unanimously agree that Dr. John M. Harlow, the Republican candidate for Councillor, made a capital speech.

—We have received the 22d Annual Announcement and Catalogue of the Boston University School of Medicine in which we find the name of Irving Reed Bancroft of this city as an undergraduate.

—The literary entertainment to be given by St. John's Baptist church at Concert Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, promises to be one of the very best of the season. Fine musical and literary talent will carry out a first-rate programme.

—Among the great variety of flower bulbs which are for sale cheap at Copeland & Bowser's store are hyacinths, anemones, lilies, jonquils, crocuses, tulips, and many others. Ladies of floral taste should go early and make their selections.

—For securing, to open their lecture course, the services of the Russian traveler, George Kennan, the Woman's Club deserve the thanks of this community. Not every one is privileged to hear a lecturer of such eminence and widespread fame.

—A few days ago Mr. Jotham Patterson of 15 Highland street opened the wrong door, became confused and fell the entire flight of cellar stairs, breaking one arm besides being badly bruised. He is ninety years old and blind, but is doing well.

—Mr. F. H. Lewis has taken business rooms in the Chickering Building, Boston, right among a colony of eminent music teachers, of which number B. J. Lewis is one. This means that Prof. Lewis is going to do business in Boston, but not that he is to abandon Woburn.

—Woburn Enampanment, No. 72, I. O. O. F., will give a social assembly and entertainment at Music Hall on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, to which each ticket admitting gentleman ladies will be 50 cents. J. Thomas' Orchestra, one of the best, will furnish the music.

—Mr. Alexander Ellis, proprietor of the Railroad Store, is sojourning at Pillsbury-Washburn "Pillsbury's Best" flour as will be seen by referring to the Company's card in this paper. "Pillsbury's" stands at the head of the heap and is the favorite with intelligent housewives.

—Particular attention is directed to the offer of Mr. Amos Cummings to give premiums of fine furniture to purchasers of stated amounts of goods at his store as set forth in the announcement which he makes in the JOURNAL this week. It tells the whole story, and a pleasing one.

—The gentlemen engaged to make the principal speech at the Union temperance meeting to be held at the Orthodox church next Sunday evening has the reputation of being a strong advocate and entertaining temperance orator. Rev. Dr. March thinks the audience will like him.

—Here is the latest announcement of Paine's Furniture Co., Canal St., Boston: General Brussels Laces just received from St. Gall, Switzerland, made during the dull times, and purchased by our agent at a reduced price, $10 a pair upwards. Our readers can order these laces by mail.

—The special guests at the Business Men's Y. M. C. A. banquet on Tuesday evening were H. M. Armstrong, State Secretary of Y. M. C. A.; Alexander Miller, Sec'y of U. P. Railway; Hon. Frederick Fosdick of Fitchburg; Hon. John M. Harlow. Mr. C. M. Strout and Mrs. Gott had charge of the banquet and tables.

—The Lecture Committee of the Bardeen Free Course for 1884-5 have arranged for a series of 8 lectures to be given this winter, which we think will prove of unusual value and interest. They will be by eminent platform orators who with their themes cannot fail to make the course a marked success.

—A Boiled Dinner generally goes to the right spot about this season of the year. It is a favorite New England dish and always has been—indeed it is a New England invention. All the ingredients for a first-class Boiled Dinner can be obtained at Durward's Metropolitan Market for a very little money.

—One of the most perfectly equipped tanneries in the United States is that of Beggs & Cobb at Winchester, Mass. With an equally modernized carrying shop at Woburn, this concern are producing pebble, glove, kangaroo grain, and splits of superior quality, which are under a steady demand for both home and foreign consumption.—Leather.

—The next dramatic entertainment to appear on the boards at Lyceum Hall under the management of the Old Colony Bill Posting Co., is to be "Tim the Tinker," on Tuesday evening next, Oct. 16. See ad. The genial Irish actor, John E. Brennan, takes the principal part. It is a fine play and our people will be pleased with it.

—Supt. J. E. Sewell of the East Mid'd Division of the Lynn & Boston Street Railway is down in Maine shooting moose and deer, at least that is what he said he was going down for. Supt. Broadway of the N. W. S. R., Mr. Gilman F. Jones, and Mr. John Shickwin, the famous Burlington dry-pool fishermen, did not go with Supt. Sewall.

—The State Homeopathic Medical Society held their annual meeting in Boston last Tuesday. The Boston Herald said: Dr. W. P. Defriez was very instructive in his treatment of "Verifications." If the doctors fail to take note of all symptoms they certainly make the work. Dr. Defriez, formerly of Woburn and now of Brookline stands high in the profession.

—Remember that the subject of Mr. Kennan's lecture next Monday evening at Lyceum Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Club, will be: "Siberian Convict Mines," the same to be illustrated by costumes and fetters. Mr. Kennan is the most celebrated writer and lecturer on Russian convict life in any country and it can be safely said that his lecture next Monday evening will be of intense interest.

—About 300 members of the First Congregational church in this city attended the fall session of the Woburn Conference of Congregational churches held at Reading last Tuesday. Rev. Dr. March, pastor, and Deacons O. F. Woburn and J. G. Pollard attended as delegates, while Mr. Fred J. Brown and others appointed were unable to attend. Rev. Dr. March reported the meeting as well attended and interesting.

—The ladies of Woburn and vicinity will please make a note of the fact that the grand fall millinery opening at Mr. Amos Cummings' establishment will be held on Thursday and Friday, next week, Oct. 18, 19, and please remember too that his exhibition of trimmed bonnets and hats, feathers, flowers, silks & velvets, will be the largest and handsomest ever seen in Woburn. Everything on sale is beautiful and very stylish.

—The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold their annual Supper and Sale on Thursday evening, Oct. 25, in the vestries of the church. Not only can you come quite up to the good Methodist sisters in the way of furnishing an annual society supper, to the truth of which hosts of people in this city will freely attest. In the line of variety, good cooking, and quantity, they carry off the honors every time. And then the sale is going to be a fine feature of the affair too.

—The banquet given by the Young Ladies Charitable Association in Post 33, G. A. R. Hall last Tuesday afternoon and evening, was a successful and pleasant affair. The officers of the Association are: President, Cecelia A. Roade; Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Morris; Financial Secretary, Dora T. Fuller; Corresponding Secretary, Etta Larkin; Treasurer, Mrs. T. F. McCormack; Vestaire, Mary Gallagher; Custodian, Mary Lyons; Investigator, Mrs. John G. Maguire.

—Last Friday Aldermen Bassett and Phillips and Mr. Will R. Sawyer, leader of Sawyer's Orchestra, went to the forests of northern Maine for big game. The report of the most ex-Alt. Frank Fowle who helped Dr. Chalmers kill the bull moose in Arrostook county on Oct. 4, and put in 3 weeks of good solid shooting with him, and when they all get back prepare for startling stories. Dr. Chalmers is no slouch on a hunting yarn but he can't hold a candle to the above named gentlemen.

—Mr. Clarence Littlefield, who has been handling lumber for mercy only knows how many years, says business is good at the lumber yards of Mr. E. Gerry Barker, which he is Superintending, from which we infer that considerable building is being done here. When Clarence was Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and handled lumber too things ran smooth and there was no growling over fire matters. But when "peanut politics" got the upper hands of our local affairs he had to go.

—Mr. and Mrs. Abigail Thompson will celebrate their Golden Wedding at home, No. 12 Court street, on Wednesday, Oct. 24. It will probably prove to be a notable social event. Abigail Thompson, son of Charles and Mary Thompson, born in Woburn on May 21, 1823, was married to Miss Tryphena Putnam Hackett of Wren, N. H., on Oct. 24, 1844, since when they have resided in this place highly esteemed by all. The Thompson family connection here is large and belongs to the upper social circles, while Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have a wide range of friends and acquaintances, from which facts it is safe to conclude that the Golden Wedding party will fill the fine large home on Court st. and be a brilliant one withal.

—Our friend, Mr. Edmund C. Coleman, raises apples that any farmer might well feel proud of, and in great abundance. He owns one of the best places (Joshua Seward homestead) in this part of the country and is proud of it.

But not more so than Mrs. Colman. "Woodsides" is a city gentleman's ideal town. In its location there is no room for improvement. While the country may enjoy all the retirement of a strict rural retreat, the town with its business and hustle, its markets and stores, steam and electric roads, churches and halls, is right at their door, and say what you will these do not detract from the pleasures and comforts of country life. Within a year or two Mr. Colman has erected a fine large mansion on the site of the old house and fitted it with all modern improvements; his barns are models; neatness and order characterize the outbuildings; the lawns are smooth shaven and velvety; and the judges of the county fair would award first prize to his acres of arable land, meadows and pasture. But how about the apples? Well, we are an interested witness and all we can say is that no other Woburn grower does more than Mr. Colman, and we return thanks for the sample.

—Dr. Robert Chalmers of Pleasant street thinks, or said he thought, that the moose which he and ex-Alderman Frank Fowle shot on the Oxbow in Arrostook county, Maine, on Thursday, Oct. 4, weighed at the time he fell in his tracks close on to half a ton. [Remark by the Editor: If the Doctor had been asked the weight of the moose at the moment of firing he would probably have placed it at 10 tons.] One day he was permitted to judge of the size of the animal by its head, which Dr. C. brought home and proudly exhibited in a window in Mr. Fred Hartwell's market, then half a ton would not seem to be an extravagant estimate of the weight of the former owner of it. Dr. Chalmers reports that he and Mr. Fowle killed the moose. Once on a time Farmer Jones made an evening call on Farmer Smith. During the evening Farmer Smith brought up from the cellar a pitcher of old cider and after warming it a few moments between the audacious place, his lips to the vessel and drained it to the lees. Turning to Farmer Jones he enthusiastically remarked: "If you don't think that was good cider, Jones, just smell of the pitcher." So when Dr. Chalmers is asked about the slaying of the forest monster, with an extra smile illuminating his pleasant countenance and dexter finger pointing towards the monstrously antlered head of the defunct animal, he says, "there it is—see for yourself."

Another suspicious circumstance was that the carcass and hide of the moose were left where he fell. At the present market price of moosemeat and pelts this was of both kinds incredible. But we give the gentlemen the benefit of the doubt. Dr. Chalmers also brought home the head of a deer, but as deer are about as plenty and nearly as tame as sheep in Maine he did not boast loudly of the achievement. Foxes were also killed by our Nimrods but the "brushies" were conspicuous by their absence here in Woburn.

As a member of the Republican State Committee in 1880, 1882 and 1883, and as now a member of the Board of Directors of the Populist Central Paper Company at Ayer, was for three years one of the Directors of the Smith American Organ and Piano Company for the same period was President of the Sigbee Manufacturing Company, which he and William U. Stearns now own. He is the historian of Ayer, and his researches are painstaking and trustworthy. He is a fluent speaker of good voice and never fails to command and hold the attention of an audience. His election is as sure and of it him the public will have a faithful and conscientious servant.

The Training Class will meet next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

There will be a Gospel Meeting for men in Concert Hall next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Short prayer service. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held next Tuesday evening, Oct. 16, at 8 o'clock, in the parlors.

Young men will find the "Home Market Bulletin" which has been revised and enlarged, a valuable and interesting magazine of both interest and profit.

The Religious Work Committee are arranging plans for series of evangelistic meetings for young men to be held every night during the week of Nov. 4-11.

We take this opportunity of extending hearty thanks to the many kind friends of the Association who assisted in making the Business Men's Banquet such a pleasant success.

The ladies of our Auxiliary would feel highly gratified could they know all that has been said in praise of their taste and efficiency in preparing the banquet of last Tuesday evening.

A friend of the Association recently donated the following books to our library: "Religion and Life," "The Life of Baxter," "Baxter's Call," "Watts on the Mind," "Malcolm's Bible Dictionary," "The Redeemed Captive Returning to Zion," and "Modern Pilgrims" 2 vols.

The Annual Y. M. C. A. State Convention to be held in Newburyport, Oct. 18-21, promises to be one of the best of the kind ever held. It will feature speakers from various parts of the country will be present. Reduced rates will be given and entertainment furnished those who will attend. Consult the Secretary.

My husband had a cold on his lungs, and after using Adamson's Balsam he was relieved and finally cured. No one should be without it for its curative properties are certainly wonderful.

HOW THE BOSTON JOURNAL GOT OUT A BIG MILITARY NUMBER.

The report of the great military gathering in Boston last Tuesday brought out another display of that enterprise which has been the glory of the Journal since its first issue. The Journal's enterprise was shown in its eagerness to get the day's old time war correspondent "Carleton" (Hon. C. C. Coffin), to report the early scenes and incidents of the gathering in a way which the Journal could quickly give its readers the best and most interesting news obtainable.

A Drop in Prices.

We have made a special reduction in English Wiltons and Brussels, and on Oriental Rugs and Carpets. Our Fall Stock, which we are now showing, is unequalled in this city. It not only includes the regular patterns of all leading mills, both in this country and abroad, but an exquisite array of private designs, obtainable nowhere else.

The four points on which we lay stress are these: Variety, style, quality, price; especially, at this juncture, price.

Our Next Senator.

Republican candidate for the State Senate from the Fifth District, was born in Westford, Mass., July 14, 1855.

He was educated in the common schools of Ayer and graduated in the first class in the High School in 1875. Two months later he began the study of law in the office of John C. Fowle, and in October of 1876 entered the Boston University, graduating with the class of 1878. He was admitted to the bar in July of that year and opened a law office in Ayer where he has practiced ever since.

In 1888 Mr. Burns was elected to the Legislature and served upon the Committees on Manufactures and Street Railways, being Clerk and House Chairman of the latter. His colleagues in the Legislature without distinction of party united in endorsing him as a clean, courageous and able legislator.

Mr. Burns was elected to the Republican State Committee in 1890, 1892 and 1893, and is now a member of the Board of Directors of the Populist Central Paper Company at Ayer, was for three years one of the Directors of the Smith American Organ and Piano Company for the same period was President of the Sigbee Manufacturing Company, which he and William U. ## Congratulations.

We offer our congratulations to Hon. John M. Harlow, of Woburn, on his nomination for Councillor from the 6th District by the Republican Convention, held at Lowell, on Tuesday. He had two votes to go for his highest competitor, and the making of it unanimous was but a fitting recognition of his strength in the District. Dr. Harlow will honor the office to which he is certain to be elected.—Reading Chronicle.

The Woburn Journal

A WREATH OF YESTERDAYS.

I made a wreath of yesterdays—

A garland all for love—

And hung it where sweet breezes blow

From lands of memory.

A summer's sunset stealing back,

Or a gleam of glory fading—

And once again, as long ago,

My throbbing heart intrals.

The winter leaves of forest trees

Once more I seem to see

Where shadows with the sunlight blend

In woven tracery.

And there, all from the world apart,

I dream the hours away—

Not empty, life dreams, that melt

As mist before midday.

But from the world's warm histories

These hours are so dear to me!

And with them wove some future hope

My soul should bravely do.

Not wholly lost, the fair, sweet dream,

For lasting golden fruit.

Strong hearts know best when to protest.</

FAIL TO ENTUSE.

The Democrats of the Fifth Congressional District are not doing much towards the election of their candidate, Mr. Field of Lowell. But little interest seems to be taken in his campaign, and what little there is due to his barrel.

It is not an easy task to arouse enthusiasm in behalf of a hopeless cause, and our Democratic friends, seeing that Mr. Field's election is out of the question, and that Mr. Knox is the coming Congressman from this District, have no heart for a vigorous fight for him.

RALLY NOV. 1.

Senator Hoar is to be the leading orator at the Republican Rally in Lyceum Hall next Thursday evening. We have no doubt but that this simple announcement will be sufficient to fill the place of meeting to its utmost capacity.

LOCAL NEWS.

—WANTED: Stitches on Shirts, Overalls, Coats, etc. Apply at once. A. L. Richardson & Bro.—

—The Phalanx banquet will be held at the Central House this evening. It is going to be a bang-up one.

—Mr. James Durward, Jr.'s street band have entertained this community in a pleasing manner this week.

—Master F. Percival Lewis has been engaged as Organist at the Episcopal church for the new year choir.

—There was quite a serious freight train smashup near Walnut Hill station last Saturday. The trains were obliged to go to and fro over the Woburn Loop all the forenoon.

—Bread and butter is what the proprietor of the JOURNAL is laying for these days and his advertising columns this week look as though he is getting there with rapid strides. No apologies.

—The Woburn Musical Society rehearses tonight in Concert Hall, as usual. In the absence of Mr. Lewis, the Director, Mrs. Lewis, with Miss Florence Porter, Pianist, will take charge of the rehearsal.

—The evening School will open on Nov. 5. Applications to become pupils should be made to Saint. Emerson. In addition to the regular studies short-hand, typewriting, and freehand and mechanical drawing will be taught. There ought to be full classes for the school is a valuable institution.

—Capt. Jacob M. Ellis entertained the members of the famous Nims Battery and a select company of Woburn gentlemen at his fine residence last evening in royal style. There was an elegant supper by a caterer, music, and entertaining war stories to a late hour. A delightful evening was spent.

—Miss Hattie A. Kenney of 13 Church Ave. and Miss Nellie Ellis of Main Street, returned late last week from an ocean voyage to the Provinces very much improved in health and spirits. They visited St. John, Halifax and all the cities of note down there and they did not have a royal good time then their calculations are all wrong.

—The Woburn Workers will hold a sale in the parlors of the Orthodox church-to-morrow, Saturday, afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Two beautiful quilts, will cut quite a figure in it. The proceeds will go to Mrs. James Fowler's Kindergarten in Coesara, and the quilts to the Home of the Little Wanderers in Boston. The entertainment will consist of a "Tape Party."

—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Cotton of Rockland, Maine, visited their former homes and present friends here last week. Mrs. Cotton, who made the Editor of the JOURNAL a call which he highly enjoyed, says she and her husband like their present residence very much, and Mr. Cotton is already in love with his work as General Secretary of the Rockland Y. M. C. A. They met many friends during their brief stay in this city.

—Do the majority of our readers realize that there is connected with Paine's Furniture Warehouses, at 48 Canal St., Boston, one of the best upholstery and drapery establishments in New England, if not in the entire country? The facilities offered to customers, the opportunities for selection, the immense variety of goods, and the painstaking care given to the smallest orders, are bringing new customers every day to these departments.

—The Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Abijah Thompson last Wednesday was the most brilliant society event that has taken place here for years. There was a large and many other places. There were lots of beautiful and valuable presents to bride and groom besides a generous purse of gold coin presented by Rev. Dr. March in behalf of numerous friends. There was a fine banquet, sweet music, and gaiety unlimited.

—City Auditor Charlie A. Jones returned a few days ago from a fortnight's shooting visit to the Moosehead Lake region in Maine and brought back with him a goodly number of partridges as evidences in part, of his success. He prefers his old stamping grounds on the upper Kennebec and the game found there to the sources of the Penobscot and Arnoostook sections of the State and cannot be allured from them by any such tempting bait as moose, caribou and deer.

Y. M. C. A.

The Bible Class will meet Monday evening as usual at 8 o'clock.

We continue to hold on Nov. 14 at 8 o'clock for our special meeting for young men. Young men keep these dates in mind.

Next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Concert Hall will be given reports of the Y. M. C. A. State convention held in Newburyport last week.

Items from Newburyport State Convention: $7,000 raised for State work; 759 men in Bible classes; 1,562 professed converts; 2 new Associations organized.

For further information come to the Sunday at 8 o'clock service.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Previous to this meeting there will be a devotional meeting and Bible reading at 2:30 p. m. to which only the members but their lady friends are invited.

First social entertainment of the season for the ladies of the Association and Woman's Auxiliary and their lady and gentlemen friends, Tuesday evening Oct. 30, at 8 o'clock, in Concert Hall. Love all the members reserve this evening for the purpose of uniting in making this social success. Light refreshments will be served and a good old fashioned time is expected.

A Boy.

At the convention of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. Association at Newburyport last week Mr. Frank B. Richardson of this city argued one side of "Two Views of the Boys' Department" and it was pronounced one of the best things of the two days session. The reporter said:

"Then Mr. Richardson gave his views, and brought practical views which were regarded by the boys as a sort of human sponge, absorbing everything, from an idea to a dinner. The object was to impart a discriminating taste, project ideas, and a method of education and evolution along the triangular plan of the body, mind and spirit."

Mr. Richardson's productions of pen or tongue are always characterized by an originality that shows brains in their composition.

Mr. William J. Hobbs, General Auditor of the B. & M. Railroad Company, and President of the Middle Y. M. C. A., on Saturday, read an interesting and valuable paper on "The Railroad Man as a Factor in the Association." A few days before the convention, Mr. Hobbs in the Boston Globe said and sent the address:

"Well, he is admirably fitted to talk on the subject, and can speak by the card. I am sure that no many more such men could be found in the Association, but out of it, on week days as well as Sundays, and he has not much to do with extending the railroad branches of the Y. M. C. A."

They Give Their Reasons.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than all others. We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will contract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs.

It is a true friend to the throat, and in healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. For sale at all druggists and chemists. For no other will cure a cold so quickly.

Boston Theatres.

THE COLUMBIA.

"Sowing the Wind" was presented by Charles Frohmans' company last Monday evening to a large audience. No straitsmen here this season has attracted so much attention as it has. The leading lady, May Hampton, was formerly leading lady of the Boston Museum Company and her appearance here was warmly greeted by her friends. Mr. J. H. Gilmour, Mr. Stanley, Mr. Frank Miller, S. E. Springer, Mr. Standing, Mr. Frederic Strong, Mr. Bowen, Mr. Keeler and others are to be found in the cast. "Sowing the Wind" is a phenomenal run in New York and should bring out large numbers here.

THE HOLDS.

Palmer Cox's Brownies will exhibit at the Hollis Street Theatre next Monday evening under the personal auspices of Mr. Cox. C. B. Jefferson, Kate and Erlanger, and the company, will be the performers. The result of their work was shown at the Park Theatre, Philadelphia. It was a grand success and the fact that it was characterized as a quaint, charming, instructive and delightful. All ages of children will welcome this production. The dupe policeman, the student, the Chinaman and all of the 30 characters will be seen at the Hollis and they will have hundreds of new clothes and huge packages of furniture that have been made specially for their first tour.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

"Prince Pro Tem" continues on its prosperous run at the Boston Museum. It is a most entertaining performance and is being admirably presented by the Museum Company. The management have secured another feature in "The Foreign Blackbirds" a novelty presented after the minstrel scene. There are eight dancers, and as all are well trained, the effect is very pleasing. The long run of "Prince Pro Tem" has made the members of the company favorites with theatre-goers and it is not strange that the cast includes Annie Lewis, Josie Sadler, Frank Johnson, Annie Sutherland, Fred Lenox, George F. Marion and others.

The Woburn Journal

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as possible on Thursday forenoon.

Republican Ticket.

Governor, of Lowell
Lieutenant Governor, of Boston
Secretary of the Commonwealth, of Boston
Treasurer and Receiver-General, of Springfield
Auditor, of Fitchburg
Attorney General, of New Bedford
Congress, of Lawrence Councillor, of Woburn
Senator, of Ayer County—Present Incumbents.

GIVE HIM A BIG ONE.

Mr. Simonds of Lowell, the Democratic nominee for Councilor, is a bright newspaper man and a worthy gentleman every way. But nobody of course expects he will come within 6000 or 8000 of an election and he himself has no hopes of reducing the normal Republican majority in this District.

This being granted, as it is in all quarters, what ought Woburn to do? Clearly, make the Woburn vote for Hon. John M. Harlow unanimous. Not only local pride demands this but the esteem and high regard in which he is held by all classes of people call for such a course. It need not be denied that Dr. Harlow deserves the compliment of a generous non-partisan support and as far as the Woburn vote is concerned, he will be virtually thrown away why not give it to him?

Hon. John M. Harlow will make an ideal Councilor. He is well educated, polished in manners, courteous and come-at-able, and there isn't a sounder business head in the District, or City, than his.

The JOURNAL thinks that the voters of Woburn, irrespective of party lines, owe it to themselves, to the good name of the city, to their future interests, to give Dr. Harlow a solid undivided vote on election day.

THEY WANT NO FREE TRADE.

If there is a Congressional District in the State where the people know the difference between Protection and Free Trade it is this, the Fifth. It is almost wholly a manufacturing community and many of the factories are the largest in the world. Its people have lately had a taste of Democratic Free Trade in the reduction of wages and don't like it. The "American Idea," with its American wages and American prosperity, is good enough for them, therefore they propose to vote for W. S. Knox for Congress instead of Mr. Fildes, the rank Free Trader and enemy of the laboring classes.

Mr. Knox's election is a sure thing.

FOWLE AND BANCROFT.

"A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether" will land the above named gentlemen in the State House for a second term. The signs point to their election, but all the same, the Republicans must keep right on working, and working hard for them.

They are good men and true and worthy of a re-election by a handsome majority.

CHEERING REPORTS.

Reports from all sections of the District are to the effect that Hon. W. S. Knox will beat Fildes by a handsome plurality. If elected what sort of a representative of this great manufacturing District would Fildes the free trader, pauper labor advocate, make?

THE RALLY.

The Republican Rally last night in Lyceum Hall was a rouser. Senator Hoar and Gen. Chaumpain were at their best. They made votes.

Miss Flora Nichols, daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Nichols, has been very ill with scarlet fever but is now out of danger, her physician, Dr. Springer, says.

In Memoriam.

SAUEL F. DELAND, died at the home of his son, Edward W. Deland, at Salem, at 9 o'clock, Friday evening, Oct. 26, 1894, aged 99 years. He had been sick a year and a half, during which period his home had been with his son, Mr. Deland, son of Benjamin Deland, was born in Woburn, August 25, 1805, and was one of a large family of children. When a young man he went to Boston, where he secured employment in the Quincy market. A few years later he went into business for himself, and was successful. He was married to Mrs. E. N. Blake, and they had a family of four children. He was a member of the First Church in Woburn, and was a very active and generous man, with his means, charitable towards all, and was universally esteemed and trusted.

His brothers and sisters were: Benjamin E. Thomas, W. Deland, and E. Deland; and Mrs. William H. Cummings of this city; Mrs. John E. Gage of Boston; and the wife of the late William Joseph Johnson, who died Sept. 19, 1882, was his sister. He left three sons to mourn the death of a kind and indulgent father. They are: Harry B., for many years a resident of Woburn, and now residing in Boston; George, who is now residing in Woburn; and John, who is now residing in Woburn. He was a member of the First Church in Woburn, and was a very active and generous man, with his means, charitable towards all, and was universally esteemed and trusted.

Several years ago he was obliged to retire from business, owing to ill health. The deceased was a noble hearted man, generous with his means, charitable towards all, and was universally esteemed and trusted.

Stocum's Ozonized Norwegian Cod Liver Oil WITH GUAIACOL

It will be noticed by people taking Stocum's Ozonized Cod Liver Oil and Guaiacol that after a week or two their appetites will commence to improve. Why is this? Because the Guaiacol destroys the poisonous bacteria which are present in the stomach and the blood of consumptives, and impairing their appetite and digestion. By destroying these bacteria we give Nature an opportunity to re-establish the original healthy condition of the tissues.

A perfect remedy for consumption. Pleasant to take.

NO SECRET ORDER

Platform of Anti-Double-Taxation League Elucidated.

STRONG MEN HAVE TAKEN HOLD

It Differs Materially From the Single Tax Idea—The Future Prosperity of the Commonwealth at Stake—Borrowers Will Be Relieved of Heavy Burdens.

The Massachusetts Anti-Double-Taxation League is by no means a secret order. It has given to the public through the press its platform and its list of officers, and it has secured for these the widest circulation. The name of the league is the difference between its contention, and that of the single tax men. The league does not advocate that personal property shall not be taxed, but only that peculiarly intangible evidences of property, now by law twice taxed, shall be relieved from the second tax in Massachusetts, and two men shall not be taxed for the same property.

The platform begins: "Double taxation is essentially unjust and injurious to the best interests of the Commonwealth."

"Double taxation is wrong. There is no possible argument that can make it right for the state to compel one man to pay twice upon property similar to that on which another man is compelled to pay but once; or to compel two citizens to pay taxes upon the same property. Whatever is wrong in the system, it is not the double taxation, but the fact that it is injurious to the best interests of the Commonwealth; and this particular injustice which tends to discourage the residence here of capitalists is especially harmful."

The platform goes on: "The object of the league is the abolition of double taxation. This language is not in the least uncertain or ambiguous. The league means to do away with a wrong and a harmful feature of the laws."

The sentence partly quoted is continued thus: "Whether this (double) taxation falls upon property protected elsewhere and already taxed."

This phrase clearly refers to the taxation of shares of foreign corporations. Such shares are only the paper representatives of property that somewhere exists, and is there protected and taxed. The law which requires the owner of shares to pay a tax on them, although the property itself has already paid taxes, is similar to the law which formerly required the owner of a mortgage to pay another tax although the real estate which the mortgage represented in part had already been fully taxed. This old law was amended in 1883 so that now real estate pays but one tax, and the enormous advance in value of real estate and the great reduction in interest rates on mortgages are a direct result of this act of 1883. The league would extend the healthy change to personal property as well.

The second plank in the platform declares that the league would abolish double taxation when it falls—"upon both borrower and lender in respect of the same property."

Every merchant or manufacturer has felt the injustice of the law which compels him to pay full taxes upon his stock in trade without permitting him to deduct from its valuation the amount he owes upon it. It is practically impossible in these modern days of active banks, or for a merchant to do a successful business and sell goods cheap enough to satisfy the public demands entirely on his own capital. He must buy to some extent on credit, and for this credit he must pay interest. As the lender is taxed for his money at interest, the borrower should be permitted to deduct the money he owes from the value of his stock; or it would come to the same thing if the lender were exempt, the borrower would secure the advantage in a lower rate of interest. At it now is, the merchant borrower pays full taxes on his goods, and pays interest on his borrowed money at a rate already taxed upon the idea that the lender must also pay. As a matter of fact, the lender seldom does pay, as he avoids the tax by paying interest on his loan to the borrower, and the old law used to avoid him.

The third plank declares that the league urges such a change in the law as will prevent the taxation of "income derived from property already taxed." The law now says distinctly that "no income shall be taxed which is derived from property already taxed." Under a twisted construction of this peremptory language certain incomes so derived continue to be taxed. The league would make the plain intent of the law so much plainer that there would be no chance of misconstruction.

The fourth plank advocates the exemption of municipal obligations. It is common knowledge that interest on city and town loans must be paid by the taxpayers of the debtor cities and towns. If it were possible to compel every holder of municipal bonds to contribute in the shape of taxes a part of the interest to which he is entitled, it would make no difference whether the bonds were taxable or exempt, but in fact a great part of every municipal loan is sold to non-residents. Our own taxpayers are prevented from buying these securities, because whatever the rate of interest promised, nearly one-third of it must be reckoned as liable to be demanded back for taxes; and so it happens that every city or town in the Commonwealth actually pays higher rates (which increase the tax rate) than it would pay if the bonds or notes were legally free of taxes.

The platform closes with a form of mutual association for the purpose of securing the main objects of the league, and with a significant declaration of the purpose to be "tenuously to oppose any of those changes in the laws now advocated which would tend to aggravate."

"The Evil of Double Taxation." Among the changes that the league opposes is conspicuous the proposition urged in the legal statute of 1894 to repeal the law of 1883 whereby mortgaged real estate is now taxed the same as though it was not mortgaged. Among the million or more depositors in savings banks, or among the fifty thousand shareholders of co-operative banks, or among the quarter million borrowers on mortgage of real estate, there is not one who would voluntarily return to the old system. Nevertheless, a certain party of impracticables profess to believe this law should be repealed. If the league does any better work than to prevent this it will have justified its existence. Another notable proposal by the league is the proposition to compel those few foreign corporations which still retain a place of business in Massachusetts to annually disclose a list of their shareholders. Still another is the proposal to compel every person resident within the state to declare under oath under penalty of possible imprisonment every item of his holdings in these companies so unjustly taxed. It is a simple business truth that the first suggestion could be carried out before next May there would be no foreign corporations "having a usual place of business" in Massachusetts. All the great western railroads, the mining companies and the manufacturing companies, with all their multitudes of clerks, would depart in haste rather than be used as spies and informers upon their own stockholders.

As regards the other it is certain that it enforced it would deprive the state of many of her most valuable citizens. It would be a revival of the inquisition. Exactly as the undue enforcement of the damage law drove out of Boston the multitude of citizens who have created Manchester, Beverly, Nahant, Cohasset and many other beautiful towns in Massachusetts. All the great western railroads, the mining companies and the manufacturing companies, with all their multitudes of clerks, would depart in haste rather than be used as spies and informers upon their own stockholders.

Every patriotic citizen should rejoice that so many strong men have taken hold of this vital question, and should hasten to join the league.

A PHILOSOPHICAL NEGRO.

Patriotism and Bravery Are No Earthly Ties to a Dead Man.

Old Pete was a philosopher. He was described to me as having both a retrospective and philosophical cast of countenance. He had been a soldier, having belonged to one of the most gallantly behaved colored regiments that fought in the battle of Fort Donelson.

The person to whom I am indebted for the following dialogue discovered old Pete upon the hurricane deck of a Mississippi steamer and by way of an introduction said: "I suppose you were in the war, for you look like a soldier."

"Yes, sah. I had a little taste ob it at Fort Donelson."

"Stood your ground, did you?"

"No, sah. Runned."

"Ran at the first fire, did you?"

"Yaas, sah. Would hab runned soonah if I'd knowed it was comin'."

"Why, that was not very creditable to your courage."

"Massah, wah wasn't in my line. Cookin' was my perfeshin'."

"Well, but had you no regard for your reputation?"

"Yaas, sah. But reputation's nuffin whatev'er to me by de side ob life."

"Do you consider your life worth more than other people's?"

"With moah to me, sah."

"I does, sah, moah dan all dis world; moah dan $1,000,000, for whut am dat to a man wid de brot'herless child?"

"But if you had lost it in the war you would have had the satisfaction of knowing that you died for your country."

"Wot satisfaction would dat be, massah, wid de power ob feelin' gone?"

"Then patriotism and honor are nothing to you?"

"Nuffin whatev'er, sah; nuffin whatev'er. I gards 'em as mong de vanities."

"Do you think any of your company would have missed you if you had been killed?"

"Mebbe not, massah. A dead white man ain't nuffin account let alone a dead nigger. But I miss myself awfully, and dat was de point wid old Pete"—Philadelpia Times.

Why They Disliked Him. Sir William Fraser records a suggestive story about a keeper at the Zoological gardens. He had been employed on account of his supposed fondness for animals, but was soon found to have incurred the enmity of his charges. Their enmity was not shown at once, but presently became universal and strongly pronounced.

It was suspected that while outwitting the animals with kindness he must secretly hurt or annoy them. He denied having done anything of the sort, and his general manner seemed to bear out his protestations. A watch was set upon him, with a curious result.

It appeared that he never spoke to the animals, and for that reason alone his presence was intolerable to them.—Youth's Companion.

Better Than a Shoehorn. "Here's a good trick to know," said a man eminent in telephone circles. "I learned it from one of the English delegates to the electrical congress. We were both stopping at a friend's house in the suburbs and were occupying the same room. I found I had forgotten to bring a shoehorn and asked the Englishman if he had one. 'No, I haven't,' he said. 'Why don't you use a towel?' 'A towel?' I replied. 'Yes, a towel. Here, let me show you.' Take a corner of the towel, so. Lay the point in the heel of your shoe, so. Put your foot in as far as it will go, right on top of the towel. Now, grab the towel and pull up on it. See how easy your foot slides in? It's better than a shoehorn!"—Electrical Review.

An Ancient Steam Man. There are a host of authorities on hydraulics and mechanics that could be quoted to support the assertion that the steam engine is not a modern invention. Carpin, in the account of his travels (A. D. 1286), describes a species of steam engine, made in the form of a man. This contrivance was filled with "inflammable liquid" (probably petroleum) and made to do terrible work in the battles between the Mongols and the troops of Prester John.—St. Louis Republic.

Absentminded. The worst case of absence of mind we ever read of was that described the other day when a man hurrying for a train thought he had forgotten his watch at home and took it out to see if he had time to go back for it.—London Tit Bits.

A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

Ask for this, and refuse to take any imitation if you expect satisfaction. If your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail this vital question. Collars $2.50 each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. State size, and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

A Little Secret Whispered for the Ladies. This Secret is not Only for Young Ladies but for the Mothers of Families and for all Interested.

Wonderful and extraordinary events among well-known women strongly and powerfully interest all. This country is filled with noble-minded women who earnestly desire to promote the welfare of their sex. One of the brightest of these is Mrs. E. L. Taylor, who resides at 17 Baker Block, Main St., Hingham, N. Y. She says: "A year ago I became fearfully nervous and completely run down so that I was obliged to stop work. I got so that I could hardly eat anything and what little I did eat distressed me terribly. I had nervous prostration and dyspepsia, and was terribly weak."

"After taking five bottles I was completely cured of all my complaints, and was a perfectly well woman. I can tell you how I feel now. I am having taken Dr. Green's Nervina blood and nerve remedy for it always cures."

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Green, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest medical world, and this great medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Green is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Knights of the Maccabees. The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children, I tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at Gordon Parker's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Green wood hisses and sputters when burning because of the large amount of water contained in its fibers, which is changed into steam by the heat and bursts off tiny splinters in making its escape.

Danger From Catarrh. The most important feature about that very common complaint, catarrh in the head, is its tendency to develop into one or other more serious and dangerous disease. The foul matter dropping from the head into the bronchial tubes or lungs is very apt to cause bronchitis or consumption, that destroyer which causes more deaths in this country than any other disease. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications, such as little good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. The powerful action of this medicine upon the blood expels every impurity, and by so doing cures catarrh and gives health to the entire organism.

Fruit wrapped in heavy brown paper will stand fifteen degrees more cold than if not wrapped.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, and in this way positively cures catarrh.

SAVENA THE BEST WASHING POWDER ON EARTH. Each Package SAVENA contains a DIFFERENT PRESENT AND A USEFUL PRESENT.

Wet Feet and Colds. Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla recommends the following as the best way to overcome susceptibility to taking cold from getting the feet wet. Dip the feet in cold water and let them remain there a few seconds. The next morning dip them in again, letting them remain in a few seconds longer. The next morning dip them in a little longer yet and continue this till you can leave them in half an hour without taking cold. In this way a person can become accustomed to the cold water, and he will not take cold from this cause. But be it thoroughly understood that the "hardening" must be done carefully.

A Young Critic. "Papa," said the pastor's little girl, watching him constructing and revising his Sunday sermon, "does God tell you what to write?" "Yes, my child, God tells me." "Then what do you scratch it out for?"—New York Recorder.

The great waves, caused by the Kankakee earthquake in 1883, which destroyed 40,000 lives traveled at the rate of 350 miles an hour. These waves were felt more than 7,000 miles away from the place of their origin.

LESSON VI, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 11.

Text of the Lesson, Mark iii, 6-19.—Memory Verses, 13-15.—Golden Text, John xv, 10.—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stevens.

6. "And the Pharisees went forth and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against Him, how they might destroy Him. In Luke vi, 11, it is written that after Jesus healed the man in the synagogue with the withered hand on the Sabbath, 'they were filled with madness.' The Pharisees and Herodians stand for religious hypocrisy and worldliness. A hypocrite must be an enemy of Christ, for he is truth itself and light, and without guile, while Jesus tells us plainly that the 'friendship of the world is enmity with God,' and John says that 'the whole world lieth in the wicked one.'"

7. "But Jesus withdrew Himself with His disciples to the sea, and a great multitude from Galilee followed Him. Worldliness and hypocrisy cause Jesus to withdraw Himself. Religious formalism will never draw the people who are hungering for something that is real. The world with all its uncreed has nothing to offer such but they will follow Jesus to the seashore, or the Salvation Army barracks, or the humblest place of worship where the simple gospel is preached by such as live it out in daily life."

8. "And from Judea, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan, and about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things He did, came unto Him." He Himself said, "The works that I do bear witness of Me that the Father hath sent Me" (John v, 36). If there is none of His works in our lives, how can we prove that we are His?

9. "And He spake to His disciples that a small ship should wait on Him, because of the multitude, lest they should crowd Him." It is not to the careless, aimless, surging crowd that He reveals Himself and makes His power known, but to such as seek Him with humility of mind and definiteness of aim. His word is always true. "Ye shall seek Me and find Me when ye search for Me with all your heart" (Jer xxix, 13).

10. "For He had healed many, insomuch that they pressed upon Him for to touch Him, as many as had plagues." The healing of the body they sought, not the deeper and more serious healing of the soul. Yet He healed many, for He had compassion upon them, and it was His custom as He healed to preach the word (Math. ix, 23).

11. "And unclean spirits, when they saw Him, fell down before Him and cried, saying, 'Thou art the Son of God.' These demons from the pit knew Him and testified as to who He was, while men knew Him not and received Him not, though they saw His works. In the first chapter of Isaiah He had said long before that the dumb brutes, the ox and the ass, put His power in Israel to witness."

12. "And He straitly charged them that they should not make Him known." He has no fellowship with men who would want to help from them. In John v He says that His Father, and His works, and His word all bear witness unto Him. The light is His witness, for God who is light in Him is no darkness at all. We cannot be in full fellowship with Him if we seek honor of men rather than the honor which cometh from God only. May we not be everything to us, and our great ambition to be well pleasing in His sight (John v, 44)?

13. "And He went up into a mountain, and called unto Him whom He would, and they came unto Him." In Luke 12, it is written that He continued all night in prayer to God. He did nothing without much prayer. Are we in any measure like Him in this? And how can He choose a few of men to make them a blessing to many (John xv, 16). Election is always the choosing of some that others through them may be benefited.

14. "And He ordained twelve, that they should be with Him, and that He might send them forth to preach." In the last verse we emphasized "unto Him." Let us here emphasize "with Him" and "forth to preach." Having come unto Him, we must abide with Him in order to truly abide with God to preach. "Abide thou with me, fear not," said David to Abiathar (1 Sam. xxi, 43), assuring Him that whoever touched the one life touched the other.

15. "And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils." His commission in Math. x, 8, reads, "Go ye and preach, saying, The Kingdom of heaven is at hand; heal the sick; cleanse the lepers, raise the dead; cast out devils. Freely ye have received, freely give." Why the 70 He said, "I give you power over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you" (Luke x, 19). See what high authority for medical missions, "Preach the gospel; heal the sick."

16. "And Simon He surnamed Peter." The account of this change of name is found in John 1, 42, and reminds us of the change of Abram to Abraham and Jacob to Israel. It is suggestive of the old and the new, the natural and the spiritual. Peter, which is always the word translated Peter, means a piece or fragment of stone, while Peter was a fisherman. He would build His church (Math. xvi, 18), means a large rock, a ledge, a cliff. It is used in reference to Christ in 1 Cor. x, 4, 1 Pet. ii, 6. He never said He would build His church on Peter (the man Peter), but on Peter, the solid rock, even Himself and His truth.

17. "And James, the son of Zebedee, and John, the brother of James, and He surnamed them Boanerges, which is the sons of thunder." Young says in his Concordance that this word signifies "angry of rage, soon angry," and refers to their fiery zeal, signs of which may be seen in Luke ix, 54, and Mark ix, 48. They with Peter and the others who were true disciples, were completely changed when filled with the spirit at Pentecost.

18. "And Andrew and Philip and Bartholomew and Matthew and Thomas and Simon, the Canaanite." Andrew was one of the first two who followed Jesus when John the Baptist cried, "Behold the Lamb of God," and then he brought Simon (John 1, 40, 41) Jesus Himself sought Philip, and then Philip brought Nathanael, supposed to be the same as Bartholomew (John 1, 43-45).

19. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

20. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

21. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

22. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

23. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

24. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

25. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

26. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

27. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. He was numbered with them and had obtained part of the ministry (Acts 1, 17), but Jesus knew he was a wicked one when He chose him (John vi, 70). Had he been truly one of them he would have continued with them (1 John 1, 20).

28. "And Judas Iscariot, which also is betrayed Him, and went into an house." This is a last which shall never be first. Obituary.

Mrs. JOHNS P. LAKEMAN died at the home of Mr. George W. Norris in this city on Saturday last in her 90th year. She was born at the North End in Boston in 1805, and lived there until 1882, when, left alone

by the death of her sister, she came to this city to reside with her niece, Mrs. Norris.

In early life she married Elbridge G. Lake-man, by whose death she became a widow about sixty years ago.

She was a woman of great energy of character and intelligence, coupled with a kindly and sympathetic spirit which endured her to a large circle of friends.

She was, for many years, well known as a Christian and charitable worker at the North End, being identified there with the Good Samaritan Society as one of its founders, and its Secretary for 30 years.

Physical disability finally compelled her to relinquish activity in this work, but she has for twenty-five years been with fortitude her physical ailments and passed away with cheerfulness and resignation having few contemporaries.

Her father, Philip Adams, was an old

Bostonian, and for 40 years prominently identified with the shipping interests of that city.—COM.

LEO S., son of M. J. Mulkeen, died Monday morning, Nov. 12, 1894, at the age of 6 years, 10 months and 19 days.

God needed no more angel;

He called our darling home;

With tears and prayers we gave him,

Although not quite seven years yet.—COM.

New England Magazine for 1895.

Some important illustrated articles which will appear in early numbers are, Old Milk

Street, Dartmouth College, the Harvard

Monument, by Dr. Edward Emerson;

Coke; Sir William Pepperell and the Capture of Louisbourg, Old New England

Songs, Dartmouth College, the Harvard

Annex, Lowell Masson, Raleigh's Lost

Colony, The Map of Massachusetts Men in the Ordinance of 1787, The Boston Public Library and New England in Chicago, by Edward Isham. The series of articles on our towns will be continued with Hoscawen, by Charles Carter, and Education, by

Connecticut. Dr. Samuel A. Green of the Massachusetts Historical Society will contribute The Several Places Called Groton, telling of the old English Groton, the home of Winthrop, and the various American Grotons. The history and antiquities of Boston will not be neglected. Many strong articles on social, political and educational subjects will be published in the coming year; and poetry and fiction will be well represented.

In short, this excellent magazine will continue to improve along the lines which its subscribers and the press of the country agree in recognizing as so important and unique.

Undisputed Merit.

The great success of the Royal Baking Powder is due to the extreme care exercised by its manufacturers to make it entirely pure, uniform in quality, and of the highest leavening power. And, in addition, its knowledge, care and skill, attained by many years' practical experience are contributed to meet this end, and no pharmaceutical preparation can be dispensed with a greater accuracy, precision and exactness. Every article used is absolutely pure. A number of chemists are employed to test the strength of each ingredient, so that its exact power and effect in combination with its co-ingredients are definitely known. Nothing is trusted to chance, and no person is employed in the preparation of the materials used or the manufacture of the powder, who is not an expert in his particular branch of the business. As a consequence, the Royal Baking Powder is of the highest grade of excellence, always pure, wholesome and uniform in quality. The contents of each box are exactly like every other, and will retain their power and produce the same and the highest leavening effect in any climate, at any time.

Chemists, after having analyzed all the principal brands in the market, in their reports placed the Royal Baking Powder at the head of the list for strength, purity and wholesomeness and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

Not After It.

"Boy del Carreras shows so well."

He catches all my cash.

I plunge on him—next time.

How could I be so rash?

He doubles up like a knell.

Then half way to the wife.

I say, "What is there left in life?"

And curse him in my ire.

"Then come along Margaret's Frank—"

A rank outsider is—

And wins in quite an easy way.

And that's what's broken me.

Why don't I lose out twice as often?

Can any man explain.

Just when and where they're going to.

Strike.

And so relieve my brain?"

—Chicago Journal.

WHO WAS ALICIA?

Young Mrs. Waterhouse finished the writing of a dutiful letter to her mother.

The letter assured the anxious old lady that the writer was quite happy; that there was really no necessity for worry, and that mamma might make herself quite content at Biarritz. Geoffrey was the best of husbands, and although, of course, he engaged at South Kensington with his four fully armed experiments and his new book on steel fibers he was extremely attentive and kind. And she was, with much love, mamma's affectionate daughter, Helen Waterhouse.

"Mamma, don't believe it," said young Mrs. Waterhouse, with a kind of comic despair. "She is always wanting to know about the latest. Thank goodness there isn't one!"

On the clean blotting pad was an impression of some of her husband's writing. A palette shaped mirror stood on the table, and half unconsciously she turned the pad toward it.

Wonder to whom he has been writing?

It was quite easy to see. Mrs. Waterhouse glanced at it casually at first, then, her face fiercely pink, with much attention.

"I want you, my dearest, to believe that I am quite true to you. I am bound by certain ties to others, but, my sweetheart, my own dearest Alicia."

"Alicia!" cried Mrs. Waterhouse aloud as she glanced at the letter. "Alicia! Alicia! I wonder!"

She knew his writing so well that she could scarce be deceived at that point. The whole thing in a moment was clear. Her dear mother, with a less cramped experience of the world, had been right, after all.

"There is a skeleton," said the trembling Mrs. Waterhouse. She tore her letter to Biarritz into many pieces. As the last fragment went into the fire in the fireplace she felt a kiss upon her neck.

"Don't do that, please," she cried.

"Beg pardon," said her husband.

"Did I frighten you?"

He took off his hat and adjusted his glasses. His coolness almost took her breath away.

"I must say, Geoffrey," she declared, "that I can't help admiring you—your cheek."

"My love, I admire yours. I mean to have used it just now."

She took up a newspaper, and twisting it violently in her excitement made an endeavor to speak with calmness.

"I have been reading rather an interesting fragment, Geoffrey. Shall I tell you what it is?"

"Quote away."

Mrs. Waterhouse recited from the coin of valance furnished by a rug the letter of Alicia. The professor dropped his glasses and looked intensely disturbed.

"Now, my dear love."

"Oh, no!" said Mrs. Waterhouse.

"My dear Helen then, will you allow me to say?"

"I only want to know one thing. Did you write this ridiculous stuff, please?"

"Why, yes. I'm not going to deny that. Of course it's only a part of the letter to the girl, but if you like I can tell you what happens afterward."

"I don't want to know. If it gets known, what will be thought of you? You will be the laughing stock of all your colleagues."

"That's a very true," acknowledged Professor Waterhouse, with concern.

"That's a very true, and I can't never get known. I can't drop the affair now, unfortunately, you know?"—he smiled at his wife a little anxiously—"there really is no harm in it, and I'm not the only man who?"

"Really?" in a tone of remote and frigid interest.

"I frankly admit, though, that I should be very sorry for it to get known. Of course it seems to you a very foolish thing to do."

"It means."

"But I really don't believe that I could have endured the strain of writing that new work of mine if it at the same time had not—"

"Let me ask you a more question, please. Understand, Geoffrey, that you are sorry now that you ever lent yourself to such a—such a despicable business."

"That's not quite the point, dear."

"He was recovering now his usual composure. "That's not what I'm sorry for. I'm sorry to be found out. I was sorry to keep it quiet. But there's no earthly reason why anybody but ourselves should know. After all every man has his hobby."

"Geoffrey, I won't listen to you."

"Well, my dear, I can't force you to. I believe if you would only let me tell you the whole affair from beginning to end you wouldn't be so much annoyed about it. It really isn't so bad as you think. Alicia is a most delightful girl, and it has been a recreation for me, you know, and I have been struggling away so of late, and—"

The door slammed. Mrs. Waterhouse went up stairs to her room and hurriedly, very hurriedly, packed a portmanteau. There was time to catch the mail at Charing Cross, and she meant to get away to Biarritz, away from the stifling atmosphere of this house, away from London. She rang for her maid.

"Parker."

"Yes, ma'am."

"The mail goes at 8 from Charing Cross, I think?"

"It used to go at 8, ma'am," said Parker cautiously. "When we went away, if you remember—"

"Yes, of course. I want you to pack a bag for yourself, and we will catch the mail tonight."

"Catch the mail, ma'am, tonight?"

"Yes, yes. Lose no time, please, and send out for a cab."

"Well, I never!" murmured Parker. "Mrs. Waterhouse had some intention of having one fine, big, square scene with her husband before she left, but there was little time to spare. Moreover, it occurred to her that she could not go to Biarritz without a letter to be dispatched from Biarritz as in a hasty interview."

"Come along, Parker," she called.

"It's all very well to say come along," muttered Parker discontentedly, but this time he was to get a game, and I don't 'dalf cotton to it."

"We've got 20 minutes. Tell the man to drive carefully, but to drive very fast."

The most galling thing about the whole deplorable affair was the certainty that her mother would meet her at the station with an I-told-you-so-my-poor-lamb expression. Still there was no one else to whom she could go, and at any rate she could always control mamma. She always had done so.

Charing Cross.

"The mail, lady," said the porter civilly. "The mail goes at its fifteen. It's later'n it used to be."

"Parker, will you get some papers? Get one or two for yourself, you know."

Parker, still rather inclined to be cross, went to the bookstall. It half regretted the excellent maid to complacent submission to what she termed all this nonsense about to and the number of "The Lady's Own Chatbox" on sale. It was her own particular favorite journal.

"We'll get in now, Parker," said Mrs. Waterhouse. "Here's 20 minutes to go, but we may as well take our seats. Second class, please."

They found comfortable corner seats. For awhile they watched the stout, portly ladies and the slim daughters, and the pale girls, the usually demure, Parker suggested so much when she saw two Frenchmen kiss each other that she dropped "The Lady's Own Chatbox." Mrs. Waterhouse took it up and held it in her hand.

"I must do something to keep my mind from thinking. I shall faint if I don't divert my thoughts."

The "Lady's Own Chatbox" lay on her lap. She put one small foot against the seat and began to read.

On the clean blotting pad was an impression of some of her husband's writing. A palette shaped mirror stood on the table, and half unconsciously she turned the pad toward it.

Literary Notices.

There is no magazine that maintains a more uniform or higher degree of literary excellence than the old, well-known weekly ecletic, LITTLE'S LIVING AGE.

Its selections are taken from the leading foreign quarters, reviews and magazines, and in its variety there is something for every cultivated taste. The Outskirts of Europe, by J. D. Rees; A Greek Courtship, by F. M. F. Skene; Surgery and Superstition, by Frank Rede Fowke; The Rajahs of Sarawak, by Hughes Le Roux; The Question of Korea, by Henry Norman; Time-Gauge of Niagara, by Thomas W. Kingsmill; The Hadramut: A Journey in Southern Arabia, by J. Theodore Bent; The Buried Elephants in the Arctic Regions, by D. Gath Whitely; Hobbes, by Frederick Pollack; Mr. Ruskin as a Practical Teacher, by M. Kaufman; The Khedive of Egypt, by Stuart Cumberland, are some of the many valuable papers contained in recent issues and constitute about one-third in number of those republished during any four weeks.

For any further particulars, and to be informed in regard to current English periodical literature and have the best papers, the most representative, profitable and entertaining, culled for them by a competent hand, THE LIVING AGE is indispensable. New subscribers for 1895 are promised the thirteen weekly issues for the current year free. Address, Little & Co., Boston.

The November FORUM opens with an article on The Political Character of David B. Hill, by a Muzzump who tells with fulness of full Senator Hill's whole career. The judgment of him is that his success rests wholly on an artificial basis, and that it has been built up on the most disreputable elements of political society. Another political article is William L. Wilson as a Tariff-Reform Leader, by Mr. Henry L. Nelson. John W. Chadwick writes on Oliver Wendell Holmes; and Montgomery Schuyler has an interesting article on our greatest landscape painter, George Inness. There are in the November FORUM four articles embodying the results of special investigation into important and opportune topics. One is a clear argument by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds on Should United States Senators be Elected by the People? A few months ago the Rev. William Bayard Rust pointed out in The Forum the somewhat startling religious condition of Middleboro, Mass. In the November FORUM Mr. Hale makes an analysis of the Impotence of the Churches in Fall River, Mass., a Typical Manufacturing Town, which presents a lamentable moral state, due in a great measure to the divided forces of the churches. Another essay covering in a direct way a group of important facts is The Temperance Problem, Past and Future, Mr. Samuel W. Pike, calculates The Wage-Earners' Loss during the Depression. Col. Theodore A. Dodge writes of The Eastern War and After: A Military Study. Mr. Frederic Harrison takes up Thackeray and writes a delightful essay on the foremost English novelist. Other articles in this number are How the New York Death-Ray was Reduced, and an editorial financial article entitled Facts Touching a Revival of Business—showing the present commercial conditions and the outlook.

Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness.

Unexpected.

It was the first time Mr. Dismal Dawson had ever been met at the door by a woman in bloomers, and it rattled him a bit.

"Lady," said he, "you see before you the wreck of a man who was at one time as much of a gentleman as yourself."

"—Cincinnati Tribune.

A Stable Forewoman.

When John Thompson, who drives a coal cart for J. T. Story of Kent avenue and Wilson Street, Brooklyn, was assigned to the duties of foreman about the other day before Justice Quigley on a charge of driving a lame horse, a stout, elderly woman stepped to the bar and commenced speaking:

"You have nothing to do with this case."

"Indeed I have," said the woman. "I am foreman of Mr. Story's stables, and I can assure you that the horse only went lame the day of the arrest."

When the justice had recovered from his surprise, he was informed that Mrs. Mary Rocket was indeed forewoman over a stable containing 60 horses. A year ago her husband was removed from the position of foreman, and his wife was put in charge. Justice Quigley fined the prisoner $5, which Mrs. Rocket paid. —New York News.

Woburna Lotion.

An elegant preparation that cures chapped hands and face, rough finger tips, smarting of skin caused by wind and cold, and makes the skin soft and smooth. Many who have also tried other remedies pronounce this the best, and after once using, never go without it. We are glad to recommend so useful and effective a remedy and shall be glad to give a sample bottle to anyone for trial.

Republican Majority Convention.

Republican delegates from the several

Wards met in convention in the upper hall

in Mechanic Building last Friday night to nominate a candidate for Mayor and also three for the School Board. The convention of the convention was far above par, and in numbers it was completely lacking only. Hon.

E. Everett Thompson presided, and Herbert

S. Riley was chosen Secretary.

After Ward 4 had been authorized to fill a vacancy, George F. Hosmer moved to take an informal ballot, and it was so voted.

Whole number cast 47, necessary for choice 24: Blank 1, George F. Bean 1, E.

Thompson 1, E. C. Cottle 1, William

Beag 2, C. A. Jones 3, E. H. Lowbury 3,

E. D. Hayden 3, M. L. Allen 7, E. F. Wier

25.

Mr. Hinckley moved to make it formal.

This brought out some hot arguments and talk of adjournment.

Mr. Hosmer wanted no adjournment, and asked "How would Capt. Wier look as a half candidate hanging and dangling in the air until next Tuesday as a target for free to shoot at?"

The formal ballot was ordered with the following result: Whole number cast 48 necessary for a choice 25, scattering 4, M.

T. Allen 14, E. F. Wier 30, Capt. Wier entered the convention and, after explaining why he had agreed to allow his name to be used, which was with the understanding that he would have practically the unanimous support of the party, and the evidence given by the ballot showing that this was not accorded him he would have declined.

A committee of 1 from each Ward was chosen to bring in a list for School Committee. They reported the names of Mrs.

Jennie K. Adams, Thomas J. Peeney and

Thomas D. Harris. These names were balloted on and chosen.

The declaration of Capt. Wier was then accepted.

The convention then took another ballot and nominated Messrs. T. Allen, who received 22 votes out of 43 cast, the rest scattering, nine of them being for Democrats.

Mr. Allen was sent for, being found at home, and accepted the nomination.

Hands Across the Sea

At Lyceum Hall next Monday night at popular prices.

Mr. Willard Stanton, representing that Boston success, "Hands Across the Sea," has made arrangements for a production of the play at Lyceum Hall, Monday, Nov. 26, and as Mr. W. S. Reeves has decided to place the price of admission at 25, 35 and 50 cents, the theatre-going public should not only go to the play, but also to the benefit of a recent production of Lawrence have this to say:

Local theatre-goers will remember the success of this stirring melodrama, "Hands

Across the Sea," on its first visit to this city. They will remember the crowded houses, the magnificent scenic effects, the interesting plot and the bright, sparkling comedy which went to make it one of the best productions ever staged in this city.

The play is strong and unusual, and is embellished with all its wealth of scenery and calcium light effects used in its original production. Its situations are admirably timed, and there is a dash and life-like interpretation such as seldom is witnessed

here. It is a play which works upon the feelings of an unusual extent. There have been but one or two changes in the cast since it was here last season and today it is one of the strongest companies on the New England or other circuit, and are all artists of ability. The scenery is as realistic as it is possible to make it, and this alone has proved it a great factor in making

"Hands Across the Sea" so popular that

The next meeting of the Club will be on Friday, Dec. 7, at 3 P. M., in Music

Hall. It will be a "Children's Meeting" and each member of the Club is asked to bring one child, the age limit being twelve years. Children above that age will be admitted at the usual charge, fifteen cents.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welsheton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer.

His cure is a great recommendation of the remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon.

When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. W. Whitcher, Drug-

The Bible class will not meet next Monday evening because of the Union Services.

The Finance Committee of the Association are requested to be prepared to make a report at the quarterly meeting to be held

Dec. 4, at 8 o'clock p. m. in the rooms.

The regular winter meeting of the Board of Directors will be postponed until the first Tuesday in December which is also the date of the quarterly meeting of the Association. Let the members remember the date Dec. 4, and be on time.

We would call the attention of all our members to the Gospel Meetings which are being held at 3 o'clock in the Baptist Church,

Ralph Gillam and Gospel Singer F. D. Chubbeck. Services every afternoon at 3 o'clock and every evening at 7:30 in the Baptist Church.

All men attention! Next Sunday afternoon the 6 o'clock service in Concert Hall will be omitted and in its place there will be held at 3 o'clock in the Baptist Church,

Union Mass Meeting for men. Rev. Ralph

Gillam the evangelist will speak and Mr. F.

D. Chubbuck the Gospel Singer will sing.

Tandem and a single will act as har-monists. The entrance fee is fifteen cents and may be paid by Nov. 26.

Cyclists' Hare and Hound Chase.

Something novel in the way of sports and amusement is to be given by E. C. Leathe, the bicycle dealer at Woburn, for Thanksgiving morning. It is a dash and life-like

interpretation such as seldom is witnessed

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Next Monday begins the third week of "Capt. Paul," a romantic play with splendid effects by Edward E. Rose. The 3d act alone of "Capt. Paul" is worth going miles to see and no ship scene was ever given upon any stage that equals this one in the 3d act. Mr. Rose has labored hard to produce a realistic scene and his success has been wonderful, for praises are to be heard on every hand of this scene which everyone is raving over. The opening weeks at the Castle Square have been in every way satisfactory and a prettier theatre would be hard to find.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

"Prince Pro Tem" has passed the 150th performance and still fills the house at each performance. This week will be the last but one of its run here. The audiences are more and more numerous, and the praises are more and more numerous, and the success has been wonderful, for praises are to be heard on every hand of this scene which everyone is raving over. The opening weeks at the Castle Square have been in every way satisfactory and a prettier theatre would be hard to find.

Woburna Lotion.

An elegant preparation that cures chapped hands and feet, rough finger tips, smarting of skin caused by wind and cold, and makes the skin soft and smooth. Many who have also tried other remedies pronounce this the best, and after once using, never go without it. We are glad to recommend a useful and effective remedy and shall be glad to give a sample bottle to anyone for trial.

The Woburn Journal

DIIDT EVER LIVE?

Didst ever live?

Didst ever look into a half open flower

And note the beauty waiting forth

Until it filled your soul's whole world.

As will the woman's northern light.

That, flowing to the zenith's point,

Falls in a shiver—a grand and glorious man?

Didst ever list a bird's sweet lay

Until the joy

Pervading it

Seemed part of your own inmost self?

Didst ever gaze into your true love's eyes

Until you dreamed of moonlit groves,

Beneath some soft and southern sky,

Where you and she were all the world,

And nightingales with harp'solian viad

To reproduce in sound your ecstasy?

Didst ever list the organ's tones

Until it seemed

Your soul was bounding forth

From some great sea of sound

And lay like sands stretched forth

With great waves breaking o'er it

And then receding in a thousand part

Didst ever watch the summer tempest pass

And drink the rolling tones

Until your spirit beat in union

And gloried in the song?

Didst ever let your soul leap

Into the starry sky

Until you felt the universe

Into one thought sublime

And then it seemed the deed was done,

Seized by your earnest self

Fall glowing back to earth?

ALLEN'S PROSPECTS.

The leaders and working supporters of Mr. M. T. Allen's candidacy for the Mayoralty claim that his election is as good as assured. He will command a good vote from the Republican side of the house and the "Kenney Element" are with him to a man. Just how much additional strength this last fact will insure him at the polls remains to be seen. We sincerely hope the lead influence an immoderate zeal in his behalf of that "Element" of the Democratic party will not result in his defeat.

Mr. Allen will make a good working head of the city government. He is an excellent lawyer with a large practice here and in Boston, and a lawyer for Mayor is a good thing. He is a man too of sound practical sense, of well balanced brains, fair minded, and nothing cranky about him. He understands how public business may be successfully carried on as well as private and if elected we do not believe he will sell out, sacrifice his manhood, or become the tool of any party or clique.

If Mr. Allen is elected at the polls next Tuesday it will not be on his merits, but because a certain faction have united their fortunes with his, without his consent, with the hope of having their greatly thinned and emaciated ranks from utter defeat and annihilation.

HON. E. E. THOMPSON.

The Republicans of Ward 4 are not alone interested in the election of Hon. Edward E. Thompson to the Common Council next Tuesday nor the only ones in the city who feel a strong desire to see him get there. His success would be an unmistakable step towards a stronger and cleaner city government, and it is this fact that makes his candidacy of more than ordinary interest.

In our great celebration year, 1892, Mr. Thompson occupied the Mayor's chair with honor to himself and the people. While Woburn was yet a town he filled many public positions with ability and fidelity, and now again he has been prevailed on to accept office by those who want to see and enjoy the fruits of a more respectable administration of our public affairs.

We are told that the chances are strongly in favor of Mr. Thompson's election, and all wellwishers of our city respond, Amen!

MRS. ADAMS.

Mrs. Judge Adams ought to have the full vote of the city for member of the School Board. She has been tried and not found wanting. The Board can't boast of a more efficient member than Mrs. Adams. She is a lady of rare intellectual endowments and likewise of rare good sense. There is no reason why a Catholic man or woman can't vote for her as freely as for one of their own church. She is no religious bigot. Theology has no influence with her in the discharge of official duties. She knows no religious sect or belief as a School officer.

The Democrats have placed three Roman Catholics on their school ticket. That isn't fair. It is not just to the Protestants. It was a shortsighted piece of business and will prove a boomerang.

We understand that the Catholic women will vote for Mrs. Adams as a unit nearly, and that the intelligent, thinking men, who are not politically hidebound, will do the same.

WARD TWO.

The most casual sweep of the eye over the list of Republican candidates for City Council discloses the fact that the party are honestly trying this year to secure a better local government. As a rule the men they have nominated are much above the general average in business ability, integrity of character, and freedom from the tricks of petty politicians.

In Ward 2 the Republicans have nominated Messrs. Charles M. Strout and Charles E. Tripp and should they be elected, as they ought to be, it will mean, most emphatically, real municipal reform. Better men for the important position of members of the Common Council could not have been found in the Ward or in the city. They have no axes to grind, no friends to reward or enemies to punish, and besides that, they are intelligent, understand the needs of the city, and are eminently honest.

Strout and Tripp should by all means be elected.

CITY ELECTION.

The issues involved in the city election next Tuesday are so numerous and exciting that it is safe to say a very large percent of the voters will be at the polls to take a hand in settling them. A great deal of work is being done this week in behalf of the several candidates for Mayor and City Council, but the names of the winning ones will not be known until the ballots are counted.

The prospect for a large vote is encouraging, but it is especially gratifying to be informed that the solid men of the city, the large tax-payers, the friends of a clean and economical government, are girding on their armor preparatory to making a vigorous and aggressive contest for the right on Dec. 4.

BENJAMIN H. NICHOLS.

The Republicans of Ward 1 will fail to do their whole duty if Mr. Benj. H. Nichols is not elected for the Common Council by a handsome majority next Tuesday. He is worthy of a hearty support from the entire voting force of the Ward. As a business man and citizen there are no spots or blemishes about him. He is a man of honorable moral, social, and financial standing, and Ward 1 will miss it if they do not elect him. In local government Mr. Nichols is non-partisan, therefore men of all political creeds can vote for him with a clear conscience.

FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Mr. Oliver F. Bryant and Mr. Frederick J. Brown are independent candidates for the School Board and will probably make a strong run. They represent the best element of citizenship among us and are well qualified for the position. They would strengthen and dignify the Board.

A serious mistake would not be made by the voters if these gentlemen were elected.

MR. HAYDEN.

It is not probable nor hardly possible that Hon. E. D. Hayden will be beaten for Alderman in Ward 1 next Tuesday. He permitted the use of his name and accepted the nomination solely in the interests of a better city government and the tax-payers and decent men in Ward 1 should see to it that he is elected by a handsome majority.

NEXT TUESDAY.

The city of Woburn will hold her charter election on next Tuesday, Dec. 4. Are the voters ready for the question? It is sure to be an exciting contest, but we hope a friendly and good natured one.

It would have been much better if the Republicans had nominated Mr. E. E. Cottle for Alderman in Ward 2 instead of Mr. Bassett. They would have done so if Mr. Cottle's consent could have been obtained. He is just the kind of a man to have on the Aldermanic Board, and the more of them the better.

The idea prevails pretty generally that Mr. W. F. Kenney will be re-elected to the School Board. If so, it will be solely on his merits, for in his 10 years of service no one has done better work for our schools than he has.

Mr. Richard Terrett, when advised to withdraw from his candidacy for Mayor, said he pulled out for Mr. Bean once and it would be no more than fair for Mr. Bean to return the compliment.

An interviewer reports that Mr. J. M. Ellis, like Candidate Bean, favors the employment of Woburn laborers on the sewers next spring, always respectfully deferring to the decision of the Commissioners.

It is generally understood that Candidate Allen is not worrying very much over the election. He preserves a serene and happy bearing through it all.

Mr. Thomas J. Feeney will of course be elected to the School Board next Tuesday and deserves to be, for he is as true as steel and bright as a dollar.

The best joke of the season is the yarn going about that Bean is an A. P. A. man. It is a terrible little campaign rooster, and funny to the last degree.

Take it by and large the Democratic city ticket is not a thing to be proud of. There are a few bright ones in the desert waste, but as a whole the ticket is not a brilliant one.

Hon. George F. Bean, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, is also running on nomination papers. So is Percy Lincoett, Democratic candidate for Alderman in Ward 6.

How much longer are the Republicans of the city going to submit to the arrogant dictation of the Democratic Boss of Ward 5, and accept the nominations he makes for them?

The Republican leaders in Ward 4 say that Fox is all right. His triumph at the polls is a foregone conclusion.

It looks as though Mr. Hayden would have nearly a unanimous vote for Alderman in Ward 1. Merit always wins, or almost always.

— The weather last Sunday was peculiar and generally disagreeable. Early in the morning an inch of snow fell but by an hour after sunup it had entirely disappeared. From that time on to night rain, snow and sunshine ruled the roost in turn. In some respects it resembled an early April day, at any rate, worse weather is hardly ever experienced at this season of the year.

— Mr. Charles Cummings's cucumbers captured first premium at the exhibit at Horticultural Hall, Boston, last week. Mr. Cummings, neighbor of Mr. Cummings on Cambridge St., took the sample in, and whether the cucumbers were the best in the show, or that the judges were afraid to give a verdict against Mr. Hanson, we can't say, but he got the premium, all the same.

— We return sincere thanks to Mr. Charles Cummings of Cambridge St. for important additions to our Thanksgiving dinner in the shape of great green cucumbers and fresh crisp radishes.

— The "Lyceum" Ulster at Hammond's was very simply immense. Accompanying the welcome vegetables were two dozen of beautiful red pinks which formed a delightful floral centerpiece on the festal board of ye Editor.

— There are six reasons why the front hall should be finely furnished, where there is one excuse for its present poor appearance. It is the only room in the house into which every visitor, be he guest or merely caller, must intrude. "A Bit o' Blarney" is chockfull full of fun especially when presented in as fine shape as it was last night. Mr. Thomas D. Hevey is Stage Manager, and Miss Lizzie Calman, Musical Director. Go early this evening and get good seats to enjoy the fun.

— A word about Miss Bancroft's organ concert. Nothing finer in the musical life has been enjoyed here this season, or any other season. Mrs. Maria Barnard Smith, the vocal soloist, was simply splendid. She is one of Boston's foremost singers and judging from the manner she acquitted herself at the Bancroft concert is richly entitled to the enviable reputation which she enjoys. Miss Bancroft was at her best which is equal to saying that she handled the great organ at the Unitarian church with a master's touch and skill. A grand good programme was executed by her most admirably and to the delight of all present. Of course Mr. Eph. Cutter performed the part assigned him in superb style. A fine audience were charmed with the music and Miss Bancroft secured another feather for her cap.

The Woburn Journal

THE OLD WOOD CUTTER.

I see her daily telling me my door

On slow, unsteady feet,

Her bowed head silvered with the frost of years

Brought wintry years have scattered since of yore

Life's bidding spring was sweet.

Her quiet face is patient and serene.

Time's plowshare has cut deep

Across those hollow cheeks, whereon is seen

No trace of crimson roses that had been

Before she learned to weep.

The kerchief knotted underneath her chin—

Its once bright tints grown gray—

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, DEC. 7, 1894.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the store of Sparrow, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 274 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Gibson, Woburn Highlands, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Littlefield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as possible on Thursday forenoon.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The charter election last Tuesday passed off in the most orderly manner. There was no fighting and but little drunkenness seen in this city. The poll was something above 2500 an increase over most former years. The vote on the license question was a disappointment to the friends of temperance. The election of the Republican candidates for the School Board was a great victory for the minority party, due chiefly to their real worth. On the whole the Republicans came out ahead. They elected their Mayor, 3 Aldermen, and 4 Councilmen, and everyone of their candidates for the School Board. Persons who went around town Wednesday morning in search of downhearted Republicans failed to find any. Tuesday was a very good day for them, after all.

CONGRESS.

The closing term of the present Congress assembled at the National Capitol last Monday. The President's Message was received, read, and the usual disposition made of it. The Message recommends free coal and free iron; extension of Civil Service Rules; increase of the Army; more battle ships and torpedo boats; a new Banking and Currency scheme; special study of farm products; substitution of Government for Contract Indian schools; repeal of differential sugar duty; forestry preservation; and other less important matters. It is dry reading.

A. W. Carter of Newtonville has published a series of booklets for holiday presents which is a gem. He calls it the "Dainty" series. It consists of 6 little booklets in which are printed selections from the writings of John Ruskin, George Eliot, F. R. Havergal, Adelaide A. Proctor, Keats, etc. The covers are beautiful and the mechanical work very neat and pretty. Mr. Carter has also published "Tiny's Christmas Fairy," just the thing for a holiday present to children.

The entire edition of the Christmas number of the NEW ENGLAND MAGAZINE ran out last Saturday evening. It was again put on the press and 5000 copies were ready for delivery last night, Dec. 6. Which goes to show that the NEW ENGLAND is a popular magazine.

—Wulf Fries at the Congregational church Wednesday, Dec. 12.
—Brewster Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, initiated six candidates last evening.
—Tickets for the District School only 25 cents each. Don't laugh in school.

—We are glad to see Rev. Dr. March on the streets again. He is looking well.

—The name of Central Square Railroad Station is to be changed to Wyman Green.

—Don't fail to go to Lyceum Hall and see Uncle Tom's Cabin this (Friday) evening.

—Such heaps of Christmas goods as can be seen at the Boston Branch! And note the prices too.

—Now is the time to have your teeth filled without pain by Dr. Rogers' new painless method.—4.

—Woburn Encampment, No. 72, hold their next regular assembly on next Wednesday evening, Dec. 12.

—Uncle Tom's Cabin is to be given in grand style at Lyceum Hall this evening by a first-class company.

—Imy Tay has a good piano class this season. She has lately brought home a new piano, one of the finest in this city.

—Bring the boys and girls to the District School. Let them see what grandpa and grandma did when they were young.

—Our thanks are due to City Clerk Finn and Deputy Clerk Mrs. Foss for courtesies to the JOURNAL agent the election returns.

—Now is the opportunity to see a genuine old fashioned District School. December 21 is the date. Well-known people will participate.

—Last Tuesday evening the St. Charles and Woburn Polo teams met at the Rink when the former beat the latter to the tune of 3 to 2.

—The singing and dancing at the Uncle Tom's Cabin presentation this (Friday) evening will be worth more than the price of admission.

—Forest Hooper is one of the best plumbers in the State. He has a natural aptitude for the trade. Of course his business is first rate.

—Whichever has got a big quiverful Cupid's arrows in the shape of pure perfumes for the toilet and other beautiful things for Christmas presents.

—Mr. John P. Fogg has returned to this city and it is hoped he will resume business here. John P. is one of the kind we can't have too many of.

—Choice Holiday Goods on sale at the Women's Industrial Rooms, Horton's Bookstore. Home-made food every Saturday afternoon.—4.

—We are right glad to hear that Mr. Alexander Ellis, who has been very sick since last Sunday of inflammation of the bowels, was better yesterday and that his recovery is no longer in doubt.

—2 second-hand furnaces in perfect running order; 2 upright stoves and one parlor stove, for sale cheap. An offer wanted. J. I. Munroe, 415 Main st.

—Copeland & Bowser advertise Christmas goods in the JOURNAL this week. They have a large stock and it is a very fine one. People are already buying.

—Mr. F. P. Brooks has a fine assortment of Christmas goods some of which are enumerated in his new ad. His plush and celluloid goods are very beautiful.

—Look here ladies! Leathe is selling the superior Ladies' Rubber shoes manufactured by the Boston Rubber Shoe Co., for 45 cents a pair. Don't forget this.

—None of the stores look more attractive than Higley's. He has made fine selections for the holidays and the goods are going like hot cakes. He is up to date.

—Mr. John McGee, formerly a policeman in this city, talks of going out to business in Boston before many months roll round. "Jack" is as good as they make.

—In these piping holiday times keep in mind what Houghton & Dutton, the great Boston merchants, say in their advertisement in the JOURNAL about delivering goods. Read it.

—George W. Norris, Esq., advertises some desirable houses to let in this paper. They are on Academy Hill, new, furnished with all modern conveniences and will be let at reasonable figures.

—Mr. E. C. Leathe is the principal dealer in bicycles in this city or hereabouts. He is perfectly reliable and wheels sold by him always turn out just as recommended, and his prices are very low.

—J. M. Ellis is putting in the foundation for a house for Ald. Fox on New Boston street on a lot bought by him of Mrs. Griffin Place. It is one of the best locations for a residence in this city.

—Boys and girls of all ages and sizes will be at the District School in Lyceum Hall, on December 21. So will anxious parents and sage commentators, all in costumes to suit the occasion.

—Waldo Thompson's store wears a holiday appearance. The bright boys and girls know just where to go to get their sleds and skates—to Waldo Thompson's first, last and all the time—and there they go.

—Sam Bartlett, son of the rotund Dr. George P., came home from the Harvard University Medical College to eat turkey with his father and mother and the fair Madeline, the sister, on Thanksgiving day.

—See the advertisement of the Concert to be given at the Congregational Church Wednesday, Dec. 12 in aid of the parish. A program of unusual excellence is offered. Tickets 25 cents, 5 for one dollar.

—Hanson, the Jeweler, is laying out big to supply this community with Christmas gift goods. His fine store is brilliant in gold and silver and precious gems and as for watches and things in that line why there is no end to them.

—We are very glad to be informed that Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery of St. Charles church, who has been stopping with his brother at South Boston since being laid up by a painful accident, has almost entirely recovered and is nearly as good as new.

—Miss Emma Fossick is acknowledged to be one of the most accomplished teachers of the guitar, banjo, mandolin, and instruments of the kind, in these parts. Her Woburn pupils speak in the highest terms of her skill, care and methods.

—We had a call from Mr. John Wyman of No. 1 Kilby street last Tuesday and were glad to see him. Mr. Wyman is a man of excellent taste and judgment—he said the JOURNAL office was the pleasantest place he had visited in a month of Sundays.

—The "Greater Boston" Commission will soon be in Woburn to consult with our people as to the annexation of the city of Greater Boston. Every citizen visited by the Commission has been found opposed to the scheme and probably this city would vote the same way.

—By reference to their notice in this paper it will be seen that the Ladies Aid Society of Trinity Parish will hold a sale and supper in Music Hall next Thursday evening, Dec. 13. The supper will be served at 6 o'clock. At the sale all sorts of useful and beautiful goods can be purchased.

—Prior is stocked clean up to the collarbells with holiday goods. The variety is endless. Possibly he might be able to enumerate the most of them, but to the visitor his store seems like nothing but a bewildering maze of the choicest, handsomest, and most appropriate gift goods that could be found in the market.

—Nearly 6 inches of snow fell last Sunday and on Monday the sleighing was more than from fair to middling. The Sabbath was anything but a weather standpoint and we shouldn't wonder if its influence was noticeable in church congregations much reduced in size. No official report of the same has, however, been brought to this office.

—Principal Owen of the High School insists that the dozen Greeks who attended the Evening School are a desirable class of immigrants. The JOURNAL, to the contrary notwithstanding. Their ages are from 25 upwards; they are intelligent; were well educated in Greece; and are making wonderfully good progress in their studies at the School. Mr. Cotton of the Russell Co. corroborates Mr. Owen's report.

—The funeral of Mrs. Thomas W. Kenney took place last Sunday afternoon from St. Charles church, Rev. James Chay officiating. A large concourse of people attended testifying their affection for the memory of one who in life was so greatly beloved. Over 300 people followed the remains to the grave, 50 hearse and many other vehicles being in the procession. The bearers were John J. Mahern, Anthony A. Doherty, John H. Magee, Dr. James H. Conaway, James J. Carroll, Francis P. Curran. A great number of rich and beautiful floral tributes were offered.

A great deal of interest is being manifested by the ladies of Woburn and vicinity in the beautiful Mexican work jewelry recovered from Texas by the ladies of Trinity Parish Guild for their sale at Music Hall, Dec. 13th.

This work of the Mexican women is equal in many respects to that recently exhibited at the Vendome, Boston, and in which the ladies of the Guild have been in charge of Mrs. Lottie W. Ham and Mrs. John Seaver. Orders for receiving and attending to by Mrs. Seaver, at any time, for The Guild.

—Caroline Gardner Clark scored a veritable triumph in Chadwick's Phenix Extras at the Worcester Festival. Woburn audience will hear the climax of that production at the Congregational church, Wednesday, Dec. 12.

—If any of our readers are looking for a Christmas gift for a lover of music, we strongly recommend them to visit Paine's Furniture Co., 48 Canal street, Boston. The music cabinet which they are offering at their Christmas sale at a special price of $10, would be cheap at any other time of the year at any price under $20. It is a remarkable opportunity to secure a fine cabinet at a nominal price.

—To make the Christmas Goods as nothing else can, and to ward off a nightmare from eating it, there is nothing equal to "Ayer's Hygienic Coffee," a delicious and healthful drink which can be procured of all reputable grocers in this city. The "filling" and "staying" qualities of this coffee, and the feathery lightness with which it lies on the stomach, makes it a peculiarly desirable drink to go with the Christmas dinner.

—The 3rd annual Fair of the American Mechanics will open at Mechanics Hall on next Tuesday, Dec. 11, and continue 5 days. It is the intention to make it the largest and most important one that has yet been held. Full particulars are given in the announcement of the Committee in our advertising columns. It will be seen that the attractions are numerous and the voting and guessing will secure really valuable prizes. It looks as though it might be the liveliest kind of an affair.

—Rev. Dr. A. H. Plumb of Boston made a strong plea in behalf of the American School at the M. E. Church, this city, last Sunday afternoon. He is a very able speaker, intensely American in sentiment, and a brave champion of our public school system. Rev. Dr. Crawford is another strong friend of the system, in fact the Methodist church of this country are fully imbued with genuine Americanism and can always be relied on to keep "Old Glory" at masthead.

—Mr. Oren S. Hosmer of Malden has recently painted the old colonial house in Acton, formerly Concord, to which the dead body of Daniel Webster was taken at the close of the Concord Fight on April 19, 1775. It was painted for the Rumford Historical Association and will be hung at the Rumford House at North Woburn, which is owned by the Association and contains their office and historical collection. Daniel Thompson lived at what is now Wyman Green.

—Major Henry C. Hall returned to this city last week and at once pitched his tent for the winter. He secured hands and comfortable quarters in the Cutter house corner of Pleasant and Bennett streets for lodging and office and contracted for his meals at Mrs. McDonald's popular establishment on the latter thoroughfare. He went to Chelsea early last March to keep books, etc., for the new Chelsea bridge contractors, of whom Mr. J. M. Ellis of this city was chief, and has stuck steadily to it ever since—until the big job was finished. The major is going to try to take some comfort here this winter. May he succeed.

—A Woman's Suffrage Fair was opened at Horticultural Hall, Boston, last Monday and will continue the balance of the week. It has been a marked success. The Woburn table, presided over by Mrs. A. B. Stearns, is the "Art Table" and has been well patronized. Over it is conspicuously hung a portrait of the late Mrs. Emma Putnam Kelley, first President of the Woburn League, which attracts much attention. She was a noble woman: beautiful, accomplished, and a true advocate of woman's political rights.

—Boston, Newton, Somerville, Cambridge, and other cities and towns have tables.

—Mr. Amos Cummings has put about 40 of the new gas burners into his store and it is the most brilliantly lighted place in the city. Capt. Gilchrist, Superintendent of the Woburn Gaslight Co., furnished them and Mr. Cummings is delighted with the illumination. Besides being away ahead of all other gas burners in the city, Cummings is saving the gas and saving from 40 to 50 percent of the gas and are therefore cheap at even $25 apiece. They make a sharp, lively, beautiful light and set off in fine style Mr. Cummings' wonderful display of holiday goods, the largest and finest he, the leader in such trade, has ever offered the public. We wish everybody within six miles of Woburn could see the stacks and stacks of the beautiful gift goods our stores contain, for if they could there would be no more going to Boston for them.

On motion of Mrs. Dow, it was ordered that G. A. Hill's Geometry for Beginners, and a copy of the same be supplied to each teacher in the Grammar School, from Susan E. Larvin, applying for a position as teacher in a primary school, and as a teacher of Latin in the Grammar School in the Evening School.

I recommend that one copy of G. A. Hill's Geometry for Beginners be supplied to each teacher in the Grammar School, and that one copy of Allen and Greenough's Latin Grammar (Revised Edition) and of Lewis's Latin Dictionary be supplied to each teacher in the Grammar School. These books are needed for reference. They cost about twenty dollars.

Respectfully submitted, THOMAS EMERSON, Sup't. of Schools.

On motion of Mrs. Dow, it was ordered that the Committee on Rules and Regulations be instructed to consider and report regulations defining the duties of janitors.

On motion of Mr. Hevey, it was ordered that, pending the adoption of regulations defining the duties of janitors, the Superintendent have full authority to require of such service as he may think proper, and that the current month were referred to the Auditor.

Woburn School Committee.

Regular Meeting, Tuesday, November 27, 1894.
The regular meeting of the School Committee was held on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7:30 p. m.

Present: John J. Carter, Thomas D. Hevey, Joseph P. Rixby, Frank P. Richardson, Vanie B. Dow, Charles A. Jones, Herbert S. Riley.

On motion of Mr. Jones, it was voted to dispense with the reading of the records of the regular meeting of October 30, and of the special meeting of November 8.

On motion of Mr. Jones, it was voted to accept of the report of the Superintendent of the School Committee of Woburn: In accordance with your instructions given me at the special meeting of November 8, the study of algebra, trigonometry, and Latin in the eighth grade of the Wyman school, the number of pupils electing Latin in this school being so large that they could not be accommodated in the Wyman school, a good deal of inconvenience. I may add that all the eighth grade pupils of this school have elected Latin, its introduction will not increase the work of the teacher.

The whole number of pupils who have elected the study of Latin is 32: in the Cummings 23, in the Plymouth 15, in the Wyman 14.

One pupil in the Cedar street school elected Latin, and has been transferred to the Wyman school. The other outlying districts are not represented in the Latin classes.

The whole number of pupils in algebra and geometry is 112. They are distributed as follows: in the Cummings 41, in the Plymouth 23, in the Wyman 14, in the Montvale 12, in the Johnson 9.

The first lesson in Latin was given on Thursday last week, and the first lesson in algebra and geometry was given on Friday last week.

I would also state that the teachers of the eighth grade are deeply interested in the enlargement and enrichment of the grammar school system, and that they have taken up their new work with much enthusiasm.

The Evening School was opened on Monday, November 19.
Applicants were allowed to register at any time during the week of the school. The number registered at the opening of the second week, November 26, was 123—males ninety-five, females twenty-eight. They are divided into six classes, each having a separate room. The first class in book-keeping number twenty, and is taught by Mr. Frank Carter. The class in stenography and typewriting number twenty, and is taught by Miss Alice G. Kenney. Mr. Willis S. Carter has a class of ten pupils in drawing. Instruction in the elementary English branches is given by Miss Alice G. Kenney. Miss Catherine M. McDonough, Miss Gallagher has twenty-eight pupils. Most of them have attended day school, and are doing well. The fourth, or fifth grade, Miss McDonough has twenty-seven pupils who have little or no knowledge of reading, writing, or arithmetic. The members of Miss Doyle's class—ten in number—are natives of Greece, and with two or three exceptions, have all been in the city for some time. The expenditures of the current month are as follows:

Instruction and Care of Rooms,	Books,	Incidentals,	Evening School,	Total,
$413.71	132.00	109.25	76.80	$731.76

Instruction	Books	Incidentals	Evening School	Total
$413.71	132.00	109.25	76.80	$731.76

A comparison of the financial exhibit of this month with that of October shows a transfer of three hundred dollars ($300) from the appropriation for instruction and incidentals to the appropriation for incidentals.

Communications have been received as follows: From Mr. E. L. Larvin, applying for a position as teacher in the Grammar School, from Susan E. Larvin, applying for a position as teacher in a primary school, and as a teacher of Latin in the Grammar School in the Evening School; from May A. Wilson, applying for a position as teacher in an ungraded school; from Gertrude E. Hill, applying for a position as teacher in the Evening School.

I recommend that one copy of G. A. Hill's Geometry for Beginners be supplied to each teacher in the Grammar School, and that one copy of Allen and Greenough's Latin Grammar (Revised Edition) and of Lewis's Latin Dictionary be supplied to each teacher in the Grammar School. These books are needed for reference. They cost about twenty dollars.

The City Election.
The Republicans got more out of last Tuesday's election than they had any right to expect. A Mayor, three Aldermen—men of the right stamp too—Hayden, Fox and Jones, and four Councilmen, and all of their School ticket, was not a bad day's work in a community where a few of the Republican candidates who ought to have been elected, Mr. Heagy, one of the best men in Woburn, among them, were shown under and this is to be regretted, but on the whole, it is a great deal to be thankful for from a Republican standpoint.

The partial success of the Republican ticket was of course due to a fierce family quarrel in the Democratic camp, and to the fact that the Republicans do not stand much of a chance of electing their important officers, and that the conditions are as they were last Tuesday, when the Democracy have set out to cut each other's throats, that the Republicans are able to secure any of the high posts. Taking judicious advantage of such conditions the Republicans feathered their nests pretty well, and now it is all up to us.

The character of the Aldermanic Board elect is a great improvement on the present one. Will Hayden, Fox and Clark, Aldermen, and Charlie Brown, have all been in the city for some time. The city government will be apt to conduct itself with propriety and do its duty.

The election of Mrs. Adams, Feeney and Hevey was a distinct, pronounced victory for the Republicans. The following is the vote of the city:

The Woburn Journal

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow Horton, 412 Main Street, Moore & Parker, 375 Main Street, John Cummings, 24, Cummingsville, Albert Gibson, Woburn, and W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at F. A. Litchfield's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

NEW VOLUME.

THE JOURNAL starts out on volume 45 this week with renewed vigor, in high spirits and the best of health. Age enriches its blood, increases its vitality, strengthens its sinews, and at the end of each annual volume it proceeds to take a new and firmer lease of life. It has done so this year.

Grateful for a generous patronage in the past, the JOURNAL respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

BOSTON REDEEMED.

This is a Republican year with no ifs and no buts about it.

Boston did herself proud last Tuesday. Curtis, the Republican candidate, and the 7 Republican nominees for Aldermen, were elected by 2000 majority, which was a tremendous overturn.

During the campaign Col. Peabody, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, proved himself a splendid dancer but on election day his weakness as a voter-gate was demonstrated.

It was a rousing Republican victory. The other city elections were all carried by the Republicans. Cambridge, Everett, Haverhill, Medford, Salem, Chelsea and others buried the Democratic nominees out of sight.

Hon. John M. Harlow, Councilor-elect, responded to a cordial invitation from the Young Men's Republican Club of Woburn to be present at and participate in a banquet of salads, icecream and oratory given in the Town Hall last Friday evening.

The list of distinguished guests and speakers was headed by Hon. William E. Barrett of Melrose, Congressman-elect from the 7th District; Hon. John M. Harlow, of Woburn, Councilor-elect; Arthur H. Wellman of Malden, Senator-elect; Representatives-elect Silas W. Flint of Wakefield and those of Reading, Stoneham and Melrose. Mr. Barrett made a very able address on the present financial condition of our country, a subject to which he has given much attention and with which he is thoroughly conversant.

Some of the Boston papers have announced the alleged intention of the Woburn License Commission to resign in a body; and also that only one of them talks of stepping down and out. Should the latter prove true Alderman Phillips, these papers say, will be appointed to fill the vacancy. All this is news to the Board of course but many persons wish that one of them might resign and Aid. Phillips get the place. His superior business ability would be a valuable acquisition and his presence would lend dignity and respectability to the commission. But perhaps it will be as well to wait and see what the present members do about it.

The Aldermanic recount in Ward 4, last Tuesday evening resulted in no change. Mr. John W. Shaw was averse to asking for a recount but the vote was so close that his numerous friends insisted that one should be had and he yielded to their advice. He made a splendid run and it was on his merits alone. He will come to the top one of these days.

Mr. Alexander Grant is still Mayor Murray's nominee for member of the Board of Registrars of Voters, but where, oh! where are the "Big 4" who have refused his confirmation all the season? It is fair to presume that Mr. Grant is reasonably happy about this time of year.

Number Four is the Banner Ward of the city. If the other 6 had done as well our next municipal government would have been a model one. Alderman Fox and Councilman Parker and Converse, (if the latter two are Democrats) are first-class business men, and they are honest.

Mr. William Bezze was defeated for Alderman in Ward 3 by an unholy alliance. Perhaps his authors are happy over it, but honest men do not look at it that way.

Now is the time to have your teeth filled without pain by Dr. Rogers's new painless method.

Birds, best singers, at Holden's, 9 Bowdoin Square, Boston. See advertisement and call there.

— Webster too has laid himself out for a large Christmas trade. He makes a fine display of gift goods.

— Mr. W. Frank Fowle, manufacturer of saws, tanners' tools, etc., has gone to Louisville, Ky., on business.

— The ball given by the Setters and Stuffers Union last Tuesday evening was largely attended and a pleasant affair.

— Mr. Geo. G. Barker advertises a fine new house with modern improvements to rent at a reasonable price. See ad.

— About the best place we know of to find the right kind of Christmas goods is at Hammond's Clothing Emporium.

— Dealers are delighted with the early and large demand for holiday goods. They are selling heaps of them already.

— The Sunday snow didn't last long. The rain of Tuesday night set it to going and with it some tolerable good sleighing.

— Mr. Warren Teel of Davenport, Iowa, has again placed us under obligations to him for a big package of Western newspapers.

— Mr. Martin Ellis of Winn st. is able to be out again and is getting on nicely. He has been in poor health since early last spring.

— Special attention is directed to the holiday advertisement of Mr. Gordon Parks in this paper. As usual his display is a very nice one.

— Choice Holiday Goods on sale at the Women's Industrial Rooms, Horton's Bookstore. Home-made food every Saturday afternoon.—4.

— Mr. A. L. Holdridge has nice things for Christmas presents to boys and girls, and to grown people too. He is a good man to trade with.

— Mr. Josiah Leathe has Christmas slippers enough to supply all the ministers in Massachusetts with a pair and have heaps left. They are beauties too.

— Druggist Brooks has already sold a great many Christmas goods. His stock is a beautiful one and naturally the handsome things go off like hot cakes.

— Polo is coming around to be a popular sport again. Matches are frequent. The St. Charles team of this city are about the best that play hereabouts.

— What the matter with Fred Hartwell? Oh, Fred is all right. So are his Christmas turkeys, geese, ducks, and sirloins. Fred is up and coming all the time.

— The choicest Christmas fruits in great variety can be bought at Junio & Crowe's at fair figures. A Christmas dinner is a tame, stale and uninteresting affair when it is minus a fruit dessert.

— Last week tough reports were circulated concerning Mr. French, the insurance agent, formerly Principal of our High School. His wife and children have gone to the old homestead in N. H. By referring to our advertising columns it will be seen that a few gentlemen landowners and citizens in the east part of Woburn want to be set off to Stoneham. There will be a fight over it.

— Fitz and Stanley of the Boston Branch are selling the choicest of Christmas groceries, fruit, canned goods, nuts, confectionery, and staples, full as cheap as goods of like quality can be bought for in Boston.

— The assembly given by the Woburn Encampment, I. O. O. F., last Wednesday evening was a gratifying success. Mr. Alvah J. Foster is the business manager of the series, so of course they are a success.

— Please read Mr. E. J. Gregory's advertisement in this paper. The McMurray estate which he will sell at auction at 3 o'clock Monday p. m. Dec. 24, is well located and desirable. There will doubtless be a large attendance at the sale.

— The roster of officers of the Boston School Regiment, and the military organizations of the school of Gloucester, Lynn, Brookline, Woburn, Chelsea, Medford, Hyde Park and Stoneham, has been received from Col. John R. Farrell.—Boston Globe.

— The Woburn Musical Society advertise to give a concert on Friday evening, Dec. 28, for which some of the best talent in the market has been secured. Prof. F. H. Lewis will direct the music. Next week we will take occasion to tell more about this coming musical event.

— Mr. Arthur W. White, druggist, is a gentleman who never extolls his own virtues. Neither does he brag. Nor claim the earth. But a person would find it hard to travel far and search diligently to find a better selection of holiday goods, especially perfumes, than he has in his popular store.

— The boys and girls will find sleds and skates galore at Mr. L. W. Thompson's hardware store. The variety of each is practically without limit, and they can be bought cheap. The clerks and salesmen at Mr. Thompson's are "white" folks, and that makes it all the pleasanter to trade there.

— The display windows in Mrs. Jennings's variety store prove a strong magnet for the eyes of Woburn boys and girls. They are filled with all sorts of beautiful holiday presents, many of which will be found in stockings pendant from the mantelpieces in this city on Christmas morning.

— Woburn Post, 161, G. A. R. Relief Corps, No. 84, have elected the following officers: President, Eliza S. Tabor; Senior Vice-President, Flora Nichols; Junior Vice-President, Flora Tripp; Treasurer, Rebekah Brooks; Chaplain, Margaret Cutler; Conductor, Eva Devenport; Guard, Grace Nichols.

— This is good time, while snow is on the ground, for owners of bicycles to have them overhauled and put in shape for running by and by. Mr. E. C. Leathe is the only dealer that does this sort of business up brown both as to work and prices. and the best thing our wheelmen can do is to give him a early call.

— Mr. Samuel Highley, druggist, has laid himself out for a big share of the holiday trade. His show windows are among the handsomest in the city and the goods are all first-class. An enumeration is out of the question so we can do so to advise people to go and see for themselves. Highley is abreast of the times.

— Lovers of Music are expecting a grand feast at the Amphion concert this evening. We learn from Mr. Frank Wetherell, Secretary and one of the Board of Managers, that a few chances to obtain tickets still remain and it behooves those who would secure them for this splendid course to lose no time in getting in their applications.

— The Teacher's Musical Union will hold its semi-annual meeting in Boston Saturday, December 15, at the Hotel Thorndyke (near Park Square, R.R. Station) at 12.30 for business, a social, literary and musical good time. All School, Music and other Teachers are cordially invited to attend. A collation will be served to those who desire.

— There will be a meeting of those interested in the study of the Literature at the parlors of the Unitarian Church on Monday, Dec. 31, at 7.30 p. m. At this meeting an author will be selected for the Winter's Study. All who desire to enter this class can do so by joining the Friday Night Club, H. C. Parker, Chairman of Literary Committee.

— Our idea is that the next number in the Barben Free Lecture Course, on Dec. 20, to wit: "Irish Songs and Song Writers," by Frederick W. Bancroft, is going to be one of the very best of the series. They say Mr. B. is an expert on Irish melodies and knows the subject from an ampesand and can talk about it in the most delightful manner.

— Last Sunday was almost an exact fac simile of the Sunday before so far as weather was concerned. The snow storms of both were as near alike as two peas in a pod; about the same depth (4 or 5 inches); temperature fairly mild; and everything else in proportion. The weather on both days militated strongly against large church congregations.

— After people have looked over Mr. F. P. Brook's stock of holiday goods they will be quite apt to conclude that he stands in the front ranks and can show as nice things as the best of the dealers. His goods are not for show alone, but possess real value, genuine merit, and are worth buying. Mr. Brooks deals fairly and has put no fancy prices on his Christmas wares.

— Of course there will be all sorts of Christmas goings-on here ten days hence and merry times generally will prevail. There will be Christmas dinners, suppers, banquets, surprise parties, and family gatherings. And Belcher, the caterer, is the party needed to make them pass off in style. He serves all these in great shape. As a caterer who is without a peer in these parts.

— Last Friday evening Towanda Bicycle Club, which is composed of many of the foremost young gentlemen in Woburn, held a "Ladies Night" which consisted of a reception and ball, with a musical and reading entertainment added. Miss Helen Nichols favored the company with some fine piano selections, and Prof. Elmore A. Pierce read several pieces in his customary admirable style. It was an exceedingly pleasant affair.

— "The greatest Christmas desk bargain ever known in Boston" is announced this week by Paine's Furniture Co., 48 Canal st. It is a magnificent carved Colonial desk with three drawers in the base, and a beveled French plate mirror with carved frame above. The desk itself is very complete and has a depth of 27 inches with the lid down. It is made of oak, elaborately carved, with polished brass trimmings. It makes a fine gift and the price is only $13.

— Capt. Edward H. Lounsbury has been re-elected Captain of the Charles Bowers Winn Camp, 66, of Woburn. Brother Lounsbury has proven himself a splendid executive and under his command the Camp has progressed in a manner to entitle it to rank among the leading Camps of the Division.—Boston Globe.

— "Merry Christmas" will soon get along. It comes in a week from next Tuesday and the prospective "Christmas Goose" is already on tenterhooks.

— She is far from happy. She fears her fate. And this is a good place to inject a remark to the effect that the people of Winchester, Stoneham, Reading, Wilmington, and other neighboring places, can buy holiday gift goods just as cheap in Woburn as in Boston and will find just as large and varied stocks to select from.

— It don't have hardly time to stop snowing before Street Commissioner Jones sends out the plows and by the time one gets his top coat on to start for business the sidewalks are as clean as whistles. Which reminds us to remark that whatever other changes in the incumbency of city officers may be made, if any, it is earnestly to be hoped that Mr. Gilman F. Jones will be re-elected Street Commissioner. To give the place to a new man would be a serious mistake.

— A great many Woburn young ladies and gentlemen attend the Burdett Business College in Boston, not because the proprietors live in this city but because that College stands at the head of the heap and a better business education can be obtained at it than any like institution of learning in New England. "Actual Business from Start," a leading feature of the College, devised and patented by the Messrs. Burdett, is what draws students from all quarters and has made Burdett's the leading Business College in the country.

— The great annual Fair of the American Mechanics Association opened under the most favorable auspices last Tuesday evening in Mechanic Hall and is now in full feather. Everything is running like clock work and visitors are delighted with it. The attendance so far has exceeded the expectations of the Managers and will doubtless increase as the close draws near. It will be tomorrow evening when the prizes will be awarded and other interesting ceremonies will take place. This and Saturday evenings will be the last chances to visit it.

— Captain Joseph C. Larock has resigned the command of Company G, 1st Regiment (the Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), and received his discharge last Friday evening. The Company will hold an election to fill the vacancy.

next Monday evening. The State inspection made before the fall Muster and report of the Adjutant, recently published, showed the standard (from the rolls) to be considerably below par which brought out some rather severe strictures from the State officers. At the time of the Muster there were only 49 names on the rolls, the falling off being mainly due to a weeding-out process inaugurated by Capt. Larock. Since the Muster the membership of the Company has been brought up to 58 privates, 3 officers, and 4 on the waiting list, which make ranks full. During Capt. Larock's command the discipline and work were satisfactory, but it was no easy task to raise the standard, that is, to increase the membership of the Company.

Hanson's Christmas Opening.

Mr. Linwood E. Hanson, the jeweler, gave a Christmas opening and reception yesterday which was not only a novel undertaking, but the first of its kind ever given here, but an extremely pleasant and successful one. He has the money and the taste to succeed perfectly in the jewelry business, and he has the people last evening, after a full day's inspection and enjoyment, was that Hanson can be trusted to do the right and very handsome thing by the public every time.

Mr. Hanson's elegantly appointed store was splendidly decorated for the opening and presented the appearance of a bower. Ordinarily it is an attractive place, but the wealth of decorations, which were furnished solely to please his hosts of friends and patrons, greatly enhanced and heightened the pleasure of the public. The scene which has ever before presented on Christmas or other holiday time. All around the room flowers and evergreens were in rich profusion; the cases, cabinets and counters were lined with them and half hid from sight the stores of brightly burnished gold and silver wares, the sparkling gems, and the beautiful Christmas goods, and the whole formed a scene attractive and pleasing to the highest degree.

In the back of the window was set a great mirror that reflected the rich display of Christmas wares in front, the novel electrical exhibition, and the flowers and evergreens to the best advantage, and produced a very handsome sight. In the evening a large and many lesser ones flooded the store and its wealth of contents with a brilliant and sparkling brilliancy. All this was the handiwork of Mr. Hanson and his efficient and courteous assistants, Mr. Charles E. and Mrs. E. A. Hanson.

The Journal devotes more space to this grand Christmas opening by Mr. Hanson than it would be if it were not the first of its kind here, but under any circumstances the affair would be worth a great deal more than just an ordinary notice.

A Book Reception and entertainment for the boys will be given on next Tuesday evening Dec. 18, at 7 o'clock in the Rooms of the Association. Every boy who attends will receive a book, and the boys will be added to the boys' library. Full notice at the boys' meeting Sunday.

Next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Concert Hall the regular Gospel Service for young men will be held. The program especially welcome. Mr. Lewis M. Lounsbury, A. B. of Boston will speak. His subject will be "Values in Life."

The Y. M. C. A. of Cambridge have decided that it is time for them to plan for a new building, and they say in their last week's notes that they have secured one tenth of the needed amount which leaves but nine tenths to be raised. Woburn would also like to find the other nine tenths of her building fund.

The Secretary has in mind several boys and young men who should like to become members of the Association but are hardly able to do so. Would you not like to give them a full paid membership ticket, good for one year, or any other Association, as a Christmas gift? Ask the General Secretary.

What It Costs.
The following figures gathered from a recent number of the Union Signal, forcibly show some things which may be worth re-considering.

During the past two years a great deal has been said about "hard times." Last winter the theory of the cities was that the money was tight, and that in want, while the sympathies and purses of the more fortunate ones were called to the utmost to relieve, even in a small degree, the great needs.

Under these circumstances, it was starting to read the following official statement: "The drink bill of the United States in one year is nine hundred million dollars. Not the dollars of the wealthy classes alone, but the dollars of many who have been long out of money."

We hear a great deal about the horrors of war and the great loss of life which it occasions. But read this statement: "In the territory now known as the United States, there have been killed in the last hundred and fifty years, six hundred thousand persons, yearly average four thousand. Rum kills at a low estimate fifty thousand yearly. The great wars of the world for twenty-five years, from 1852 to 1877, including the Franco-Prussian War, and our own Civil War, cost a fraction over two billion dollars. The cost of industry, the cost of the railroads, the cost of the United States was fifteen billion dollars more than all the wars of the world."

It is a sad thing to see the boys from each generation to keep the saloons running, or one boy from every five boys to be sent to the penitentiary. In the face of such statistics and facts it almost seems as though there is no remedy for the evil, but the subject of temperance is gaining ground surely, if slowly, and the next fifty years will see a decrease in these figures.

Resigned.
WOBURN, Dec. 1894.
Captain J. C. Larock of the Woburn Mechanic Phalanx, Co. G, 5th Regiment of Infantry, M. V. has resigned on account of business. He will be greatly missed in the Company as he was a hard worker for its welfare. When he was first elected Captain it was his small undertaking but he went to work wading out our streets and taking in good. He says it is very easy for a company to run down, but it is very hard work to build one up; but he was determined to bring the Company up to the standard before he resigned, and he has done so, not however until after last Camp, and then he was happy. At the time he was resigning he had the company up to the standard of 28 enlisted men, 3 officers and 4 on the waiting list, and all good.

He leaves the Company with a good record and a host of friends wishing him success in his new venture. He will be a Captain longer.—A MEMBER.

Cleanable Collars and Cuffs.
"Celluloid" collars and cuffs are one of the greatest blessings that was ever brought to mankind by the geni of invention, especially the man whose company demands that he wear his Sunday clothes every day, as Bill Nye puts it. A daily change of linen runs into a considerable sum of money, but in the course of a year, "Celluloid" makes it possible to add this item to the man's savings. Many men when buying water proof collars and cuffs make the mistake of believing that it's all the same so long as they are called "celluloid." This is a grievous error. The genuine "Celluloid" collars and cuffs are peculiarly made, being in reality a linen collar or cuff covered on both sides with pure waterproof "Celluloid." This prevents cracking and increases the durability of the article. When soiled, it can be wiped off with damp cloth and made to look equally as well as the most skillfully laundered linen. All dissatisfaction can be avoided by looking for the trade mark, "Celluloid," stamped on the inside of every piece.

Kris Kringle's Headquarters.
The king of the Christmas scatters his favors with no impartial hand. He has "no enemies to punish," but loads of little friends all over the world to reward. On the night before Christmas he visits everybody without discrimination, and his train of reindeer is as likely to find the roof of the poor man's cabin as the rich man's palace. Old Kris is no respecter of persons.

And yet, like every other good business man, Kris has headquarters at all the places he visits for the distribution of Christmas gifts. He has his headquarters here in Woburn his depots are at C. Willard Smith's, Anos Cummings's and Copeland & Bowser's. He closes three stores for headquarters, because he could not get all of his goods into one. This is not saying that he is giving anyone, nor would the jolly old fellow be understood as slighting the scores of other places; but he has his headquarters here in Woburn, and he has a tremendous big business here this season and a successful conduct of it demands all the room he can get. He has visited and deposited beautiful Christmas presents in more than 500 places in this city already, but his headquarters are at C. Willard Smith's, Anos Cummings's and Copeland & Bowser's, as aforesaid.

Santa respectfully invites everybody to visit those stores and see the grand sights.

Gilman A. Bean.
This well-known and greatly esteemed citizen of Woburn, who was taken sick with pneumonia on Dec. 5, and died at his residence on Fairmount street on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11.

The deceased was born at Warner, N. H., 1824, and came to Woburn about 1841. In 1852 he returned to New Hampshire and engaged in trade, but came back to Woburn in 1857, to take charge of the new water works system, as Superintendent. This he held until 1877, and again in 1882 was appointed. Later he was Water Registrar. For the past 10 years he has been in charge of estates.

He was an active member of the First Congregational Church in this city, and the influence of his precept and example was to elevate and improve the character of the people among whom he lived.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, the religious services being conducted by Rev. Dr. March and Rev. M. Huntington of Warner. The remains were taken to his native place for interment. A widow mourns the loss of good husband.

City Government.
ALDERMEN.

The Board held a special meeting last Monday evening.

Petitions for a recount of the votes for Aldermen in Wards 4 and 7 were received and it was voted to recount the votes Tuesday evening at 7.30. The nomination by the Mayor of Alexander Grant for Registrar of Voters was rejected by a vote of 3 to 3.

The nomination of E. E. Brooks as Under-taker was confirmed. Concurred with the Council in the order for a loan of $4,000 for Almshouse, Police, Military Aid and License Commission.

A Reminder.
Do not delay your Christmas souvenirs, especially your photographs, until the holiday days and hurry.

Sittings at Hardy's Studio can be had at any time previous; and his novel designs and devices can be had to suit your attention for their special merit, and our readers should lose no time in visiting his Studio, 523 Washington street, Boston, opposite R. H. White & Co.'s, on a tour of inspection.

Hearing.
The Metropolitan District Commission will give a hearing on the question of "Greater Boston" at the Rooms of the Board of Trade in this city on Dec. 30 or 31.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It relieves the pain as soon as applied. J. W. Young, West Liberty, W. Va. THE BOSTON.

"Shores Across" that exquisite play of New England Life which created such a sensation here two years ago will begin a limited return engagement at the Boston Theatre next Monday night when Mr. James
A. Herne and his supporting company may expect a hearty welcome. "Shores Across" returns to Boston crowned with universal success the piece being accepted everywhere as the best American play yet produced. Since last here "Shores Across" scored a run of 275 nights in New York; 40 nights in Philadelphia, and 25 nights in Brooklyn. The supporting company will include Robert Fischer, James T. Gahan, John Dixon, Franklin Garland, Grace Gaylor Clark and Grace Filkins. "In Old Kentucky" will be seen tonight and tomorrow which will close the long and successful run of this stirring melodrama.

THE PARK.

"A Black Sheep" began the third week of its engagement at the Park Theatre last Monday evening, and this the last play of Mr. Hoyt has proved a great success. Mr.
Hoyt's success in producing a play is attributed to the fact he has his artist's mind in building his characters. This was true in the case of "His Harlan" whose performance of Hot Stuff won immediate success.
Mr. William De Vere who looks and acts the part of the Editor of the Tombstone in Arizona creates amusement from start to finish. Mr. Franklin is well fitted with the role of the cousin. Miss Betina Girard makes a beautiful picture of the shrewish and captivating queen of baroque whom Hot Stuff finally weds. The company is strong vocally and the musical features in all of Hoyt's productions add greatly to their popularity.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

"Humanity," a strong and picturesque melodrama by Sutton Vane, was given its first production here last Monday night and was received with great favor. "Humanity" is the best play yet from the pen of Sutton Vane, and a long and prosperous run is already predicted. Manager Brady has spared neither time nor expense to make it the finest production ever seen here. A remarkable corps of actors are presenting "Humanity," including such well known people as Joseph Grimes, Miss Phoebe Davies, C. W. Coudock, Miss Annie Clarke, Frazier Coulter, Dore Davidson, Miss Babe Vining, Scott Cooper, Miss Agnes Lane and others. The scenic effects are beautiful. The imported fox hounds and thoroughbred horses to be used in the fox hunt are beautiful.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"Jacinta," the new Mexican comic opera was presented on Monday evening last by the Louise Bandet Opera Company at the Castle Square Theatre to a large and fashionable audience who thoroughly appreciated the opera and were convinced beyond question that this beautiful theatre is wonderfully adapted for the production of musical roles. The story of the opera is very amusing, ably acted, and the production in numbers of comic situations, most of which are new to the stage. Miss Louise Bandet was received with great applause by her many Boston friends, having won success here in the past, and in "Jacinta" won more. The company consists of Miss Bandet, who has several Boston favorites, prominent among them being Edwin Stevens and Harry Brown, both famous as fun makers. Sig. Pempini, Stewart Harold are also prominent in the cast. The chorus of 60 well trained voices add greatly to the production of "Jacinta."

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE.

The bills announced for the holiday weeks by the management are monster ones and those who are fortunate enough to visit this beautiful amusement place will be amply repaid with fun, mirth and music.
A few of the attractions are given below:
The Dixon Bros. the funniest team of grotesque comedy and musical artists before the public. Raymon More, America's favorite performer in her line ever seen.
The first appearance of Granjean and May who have astonished all Europe on the bouding wire. Nellie B. Chandler's Lady Orchestra composed of 10 of the leading female instrumentalists and soloists in the world. Majore's French Pantomime Troupe, Messard and Marba, and musical comedians; Fish and Quigg, the "long and short of it," one nearly 7 feet in height the other less than 4 feet. The LaMonts, Romulo Bros., and many other leading stars of the vaudeville stage.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

The attraction at the Palace Theatre in Boston next week will be Sam T. Jack's belles and comedians will present an abundant of fresh features and a programme on which not one number is dull. The artists have established a reputation for singing and dancing which they have never failed to sustain. The opening act, entitled "The Tropical Temple of Theophrastus," is rich in comic and musical and picturesque surroundings. On Monday evening, Dec. 31, (New Year's Eve) there will be a midnight performance and "Watch" meeting. This will be an excellent opportunity for those who want to see old year out and the New Year in.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

The rehearsal of the new comic opera
"Westward Ho!" have been so careful and so complete that a smooth and spirited performance may be confidently expected when the work receives its first performance on any stage at the Boston Museum Monday evening next. Musical and dramatic circles are manifestly much interested in the opening night, and a brilliant and fashionable audience is already assured. The book will be found clever, diverting and original, and the music light and pleasing.
The cast is an efficient one, and entirely new scenery and costumes have been prepared for the opera.

THE TREMONT.

Much interest is manifested in the opening night of Lillian Russell at the Tremont Theatre on Monday evening next, in "The Grand Duchess." The opera is to be produced with lavish splendor in regard to scenery and costumes, and with a cast including Robert Wilke, Dicky Bell, Halliday, Sidney Howard, Annie Myers and other well-known artists. The sale of seats has been very large. The only matinee of the engagement will be those of Saturday.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"Oliver Twist," with Messrs. Kennan, Barrow, Metastayer, Coote, Lang, and Miss Elita Proctor Otis, Katherine Dooling and other favorites in the cast, is doing a good business at the Grand Opera House. This powerful play is finely acted and elaborately staged. Mr. James B. Mackie in "The Side Show" is next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House.

THE STORY OF CREATION by Parker L.
Converse, author of "Legends of Woburn," etc. 35 pp. Christmas, 1894.

This is a neat little pamphlet written by our esteemed fellow townsman, Judge Converse, while away at a boarding school, and interest by those who may be so fortunate as to obtain a copy of it. Its title indicates the character of the work. It is written in blank verse and the subject, which is not so formidable as its name would seem to indicate, is handled in true conversational style.

We thank the Author for a neatly printed

But Does It?

It is curious that Stoneham should be the only town or city in the tonnage trade round Boston which comes out daily in favor of annexation.—Boston Evening Record.

But does it, Mr. Record? Five or six tongue men at a hearing do not always represent the actual public sentiment of a town, not by a long shot.—Wakefield Daily Item.

That Stoneham meeting was "packed," and we happen to know the name of the packer.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for several years as a remedy required, and always with perfect success. He writes: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this Remedy at home or on a trip away from home. For sale by A. W. White, Druggist."

The petition of Mr. Henry F. Johnson to the Board of Selectmen is a very proper one. Due to it should not only protect its own printers, right here on the spot, all things being equal, but should in many other respects look to him before they go abroad.

ably be that of Red Jacket, an Ojibway chief. The face will be chiefly selected on account of its nobility and dignity of expression.

HANDSOME HOME

OF THE

Mason & Hamlin Company.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Ernest D. Blackwell to the Woburn Trust Company, dated and recorded with Middlesex (Soc. Dist.) Deeds, Book 222, Page 17, which mortgage has been assigned to John F.
Hutchinson by assignments recorded with said deeds, for breach of the condition thereof, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, December 31, 1894, at 4 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and described as follows:—
All that parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in Woburn, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, near East Woburn, or Montvale, bounded:
—Beginning on the westerly side of Vernon street at a point distant southerly from said corner, or corner of Adams Place, measuring on said street 47.6-1/2 feet, and running south 47 and 98 feet by said street 60 feet; thence at a right angle westerly by land formerly owned by said Foster 160 feet to the point of beginning, containing 6,000 square feet.
Above described premises will be sold subject to unpaid taxes and assessments, if any.
$300 to be paid at sale.

J. F. HUTCHINSON,

Present holder of said mortgage.

PROBATE COURT.

To the highest-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Ellen F. Bay, late of Woburn, in said County, A. D. 1890, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Woburn Journal, a newspaper published in Woburn, the last publication to be on day at least before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. McINTYRE, Justice of the said Court, this thirtieth day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety four.

S. H. FOLSON, Register.

Mason & Hamlin now occupy their new building,
No. 146 Boylston Street (opposite Common), Boston.

In planning the building it has been the aim of the Company and of the architects, Messrs. Shepley, Hutton & Coolidge, to secure a perfect arrangement for the display and practical testing of their instruments. The public, whose convenience has ever been kept in mind, may inspect and hear both plans and organs under normal conditions; consequently may select intelligently. The public are cordially invited to examine the large stock of Grand and Upright Pianos, and of Lias, Church, Chapel and Parlor Organs.
